

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION

Pathways in Context.....	1
C.J.P. Nolan, A.C.W. Fung and M.A. Brown

SECTION 1: Models for Supporting and Enhancing Professional Practice

Managing Assessment: Using Technology to Facilitate Change.....	13
G. Welsh

The Distance Ecological Model to Support Self/Collaborative-Learning in the Internet Environment	21
T. Okamoto

Educational Centres as Knowledge Organisations Training Future Knowledge Workers: The Role of IT	31
J. Osorio, C. Zárraga and J. Rodríguez

SECTION 2: CSIS Models and Designs

Developing Software for School Administration and Management	45
M. Bajec, M. Krisper and R. Rupnik

Open ITEM Systems are Good ITEM Systems	59
A. Tatnall and B. Davey

Information Systems for Leading and Managing Schools: Changing the Paradigm	71
C.J.P. Nolan and M. Lambert

CSIS Usage in School Management: A Comparison of Good and Bad Practice Schools	87
A.J. Visscher and P.P.M. Bloemen

SECTION 3: Evaluation of System Effects

Has a Decade of Computerisation Made a Difference in School Management?	99
P. Wild, D. Smith and J. Walker
SAMS in Hong Kong Schools: A User Acceptance Audit.....	121
A.C.W. Fung and J. Ledesma

SECTION 4: Making a Difference Through Training and Professional Development

How Should School Managers Be Trained for Managerial School Information System Usage?	147
A.J. Visscher and E.M. Branderhorst
Supporting UK Teachers Through The National Grid for Learning.....	159
I. Selwood, D. Smith and J. Wisehart

Pathways to Institutional Improvement with Information
Technology in Educational Management

IFIP TC3/WG3.7 Fourth International Working

Conference on Information Technology in Educational Management July 27–31, 2000, Auckland, New Zealand

Nolan, C.J.P.; Fung, A.; Brown, M. (Eds.)

2001, X, 174 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-0-7923-7493-0