
Contents

Introduction

H. Häfner	1
-----------------	---

Genetics and Population-related Risk Factors

Genetics of schizophrenia and related disorders

W. Maier, M. Rietschel, M. Linz, P. Falkai	9
--	---

Genotype-environment interaction in the Finnish adoptive family study – Interplay between genes and environment?

P. Tienari, L. C. Wynne, A. Sorri, I. Lahti, K. Läksy, J. Moring, M. Naarala, P. Nieminen, K.-E. Wahlberg, J. Miettunen	29
---	----

Cognitive epidemiology: psychological and social risk mechanisms for psychosis

J. van Os, I. Janssen, M. Hanssen, M. Bak, I. Myin-Germeys, M. Marcelis, R. Bijl, W. Vollebergh, D. Delespaul	39
---	----

Developmental Disorders of the Brain

Neuropathology of schizophrenia: is there evidence for a neurodevelopmental disorder?

F. Falkai, K. Vogeley, R. Tepest, T. Schneider-Axmann	61
---	----

High-risk studies and neurodevelopmental hypothesis

J. Parnas, J. W. Carter	71
-------------------------------	----

Are structural cerebral changes progressive in schizophrenia?

J. Schröder, C. Bottmer, J. Pantel	83
--	----

Discussion: developmental disorders of the brain

E. Gouzoulis-Mayfrank	99
-----------------------------	----

Environmental Risk Factors

Obstetric complications, maternal psychopathology, and the risk of psychosis

H. Verdoux, A. L. Sutter	105
--------------------------------	-----

Migration and the social epidemiology of schizophrenia
G. Harrison, W. Eaton	113
Urban/rural life as a risk factor?
P. B. Mortensen, C. B. Pedersen	123
Environmental risk factors of psychosis
W. F. Gattaz, A. L. Abrahão, R. Foccacia	133

Indicators of Schizophrenia in Childhood and Adolescence

Risk factors for schizophrenia in childhood and youth
P. B. Jones	141
Association between cognitive and behavioral functioning, non-psychotic psychiatric diagnoses, and drug abuse in adolescence, with later hospitalization for schizophrenia
M. Weiser	163
Specificity of basic symptoms in early onset schizophrenia
F. Resch, P. Parzer, L. Poustka, E. Koch, H. Meng, D. Bürgin	177
Discussion: indicators of schizophrenia in childhood and adolescence
D. J. Done	185

Psychopathological Predictors of Onset and Course of Schizophrenia

Predicting the onset of schizophrenia
J. Klosterkötter	193
The early course of schizophrenia
H. Häfner, K. Maurer, W. Löffler, W. an der Heiden, R. Könnecke, M. Hambrecht	207
Testing models of the early course of schizophrenia
F. Schultze-Lutter, W. Löffler, H. Häfner	229
Discussion: psychopathological predictors of onset and course of schizophrenia
H. Häfner	243

Perspectives of Neuroprotective Interventions

Neuroprotection in schizophrenia – What does it mean? – What means do we have?
H. Ehrenreich, A.-L. Sirén	257

Neuroprotective effects of estrogens in the central nervous system: mechanisms of action

C. Behl 263

Results of two controlled studies on estrogen: avenue to neuroprotection in schizophrenia

J. Kulkarni, A. de Castella, M. Downey, S. White, J. Taffe,
P. Fitzgerald, H. Burger 271

Psychoprotective FactorsFamily interventions: empirical evidence of efficacy and open questions

S. Klingberg 285

Cognitive-behavior therapy in the treatment of schizophrenia

N. Tarrier 295

Coping and social support as protective factors

K. Maurer, H. Häfner 303

Discussion: Protective interventions in schizophrenia

F. Resch 321

Developments and PerspectivesRisk and protective factors in schizophrenia. Towards a conceptual model of the disease process

P. B. Jones 327

Risk and Protective Factors in Schizophrenia
Towards a Conceptual Model of the Disease Process
Häfner, H. (Ed.)
2002, XI, 331 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-7985-1365-5