

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	IX
CHAPTER 1 Toward a Seamless Salutology: Reconciling Subjectivity and Health Professionalism	1
CHAPTER 2 A Natural Scientific Foundation for Participation and Empowerment: Implications of A Far-From-Equilibrium Thermodynamic Understanding of Health and Health Etiology	25
CHAPTER 3 Understandings of the Preconditions for and Determinants of Health among Residents of Maastricht, The Netherlands	45
CHAPTER 4 Indications of Social Variation in Understandings of the Preconditions for and Determinants of Health among Residents of Maastricht, The Netherlands	65
CHAPTER 5 Representations of Preconditions for and Determinants of Health in the Dutch Press	81
CHAPTER 6 What Do The Dutch Believe Determines Their Health?	95
CHAPTER 7 Theoretical and Practical Legitimacy of Public Participation in Dutch Health-Related Policy Formulation	119
CHAPTER 8 Reflections on the Findings: The Dutch Context and Its Relevance	163
BIBLIOGRAPHY	195
INDEX	209

<http://www.springer.com/978-1-4020-0809-2>

Determinants of Health: Theory, Understanding,
Portrayal, Policy

Commers, M.J.

2002, XIII, 211 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-1-4020-0809-2