

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Foreword EDWARD HICKCOX	xiii
Introduction: New Expectations for Democratic School Leadership in a Global Community PAUL T. BEGLEY and OLOF JOHANSSON	xv

PART 1: EXPLAINING THE ETHICAL DIMENSIONS OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP

In Pursuit of Authentic School Leadership Practices PAUL T. BEGLEY	1-12
Democratic Leadership Theory in Late Modernity: An Oxymoron or Ironic Possibility? ROBERT J. STARRATT	13-31
Persistent Difficulties with Values in Educational Administration: Mapping the Terrain MALCOLM J. RICHMON	33-47
Reflective Practice: Picturing Ourselves CYRIL P. COOMBS	49-65

PART 2: CONCEPTS OF SCHOOL COMMUNITY AND COLLABORATION

Community, Coherence, and Inclusiveness KENNETH A. STRIKE	69-87
Deconstructing Communities: Educational Leaders and their Ethical Decision-Making Processes JACQUELINE A. STEFKOVICH and JOAN POLINER SHAPIRO	89-106
Let Right Be Done: Trying to Put Ethical Standards into Practice ELIZABETH CAMPBELL	107-125

Valuing Schools as Professional Communities: Assessing the Collaborative Prescription LAWRENCE J. LEONARD and PAULINE E. LEONARD	127-142
--	---------

PART 3: CROSS-CULTURAL PERSPECTIVES ON EDUCATIONAL COMMUNITIES

Developing Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Education and Community ALLAN D. WALKER	145-160
School Organizational Values: The Driving Force for Effectiveness and Change ISAAC A. FRIEDMAN	161-179
The Relationship of Gender and Context to Leadership in Australian Schools JOHN L. COLLARD	181-199
School Leadership as a Democratic Arena OLOF JOHANSSON	201-219
Conclusion: Tomorrow, and Tomorrow, and Tomorrow: A Post-Postmodern Purview CHRISTOPHER HODGKINSON	221-231
Index	233

<http://www.springer.com/978-1-4020-1160-3>

The Ethical Dimensions of School Leadership

Begley, P.T.; Johansson, O. (Eds.)

2003, XX, 238 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-1-4020-1160-3