1. OVERVIEW

Accuracy improvements to find the balance interpretability-accuracy in linguistic fuzzy modeling: an overview	3
J. Casillas, O. Cordón, F. Herrera, L. Magdalena

2. ACCURACY IMPROVEMENTS CONSTRAINED BY INTERPRETABILITY CRITERIA

COR methodology: a simple way to obtain linguistic fuzzy models with good interpretability and accuracy	27
J. Casillas, O. Cordón, F. Herrera
Constrained optimization of genetic fuzzy systems	46
F. Cheong, R. Lai
Trade-off between the number of fuzzy rules and their classification performance	72
H. Ishibuchi, T. Yamamoto
Generating distinguishable, complete, consistent and compact fuzzy systems using evolutionary algorithms	100
Y. Jin
Fuzzy CoCo: balancing accuracy and interpretability of fuzzy models by means of coevolution	119
C.A. Peña-Reyes, M. Sipper
On the achievement of both accurate and interpretable fuzzy systems using data-driven design processes	147
J. Valente de Oliveira, P. Fazendeiro

3. EXTENDING THE MODELING PROCESS TO IMPROVE THE ACCURACY

Linguistic hedges and fuzzy rule based systems	165
C.-Y. Chen, B.-D. Liu
Automatic construction of fuzzy rule-based fuzzy systems: A trade-off between complexity and accuracy maintaining interpretability	193
H. Pomares, I. Rojas, J. González
Using individually tested rules for the databased generation of interpretable rule bases with high accuracy	220
T. Slawinski, P. Krause, H. Kiendl

4. EXTENDING THE MODEL STRUCTURE TO IMPROVE THE ACCURACY

A description of several characteristics for improving the accuracy and interpretability of the fuzzy rule learning algorithms	249
E. Aguirre, A. González, R. Pérez
An iterative learning methodology to design hierarchical systems of linguistic rules for linguistic modeling	277
R. Alcalá, O. Cordon, F. Herrera, I. Zwir
Learning default fuzzy rules with general and punctual exceptions	302
P. Carmona, J.L. Castro, J.J. Castro-Schez, M. Lagua
Integration of fuzzy knowledge	338
T.-P. Hong, C.-H. Wang, S.-S. Tseng
Tuning fuzzy partitions or assigning weights to fuzzy rules: which is better?	366
L. Sánchez, J. Otero
