

Contents

VII

1	Introduction – The Career as a Long Trip	3
2	Technical Areas	13
2.1	Accepting Failure to Create Innovation in Experimentation	13
2.2	Keeping Current – Always Learning	19
2.3	Specialist or Generalist?	24
2.4	Being a Part of the Scientific Community	29
2.4.1	General Remarks	29
2.4.2	Societies – Is it Advantageous to Belong to Professional Societies?	30
2.4.3	Being Involved in Societies	31
2.4.4	Conferences – Is it Advantageous to Attend and Present at Conferences?	33
2.4.5	Journals and other Publications – Is it Advantageous to Publish Papers?	35
2.4.6	Reviewing for Journals	38
2.4.7	Advisory Boards and Editorships	39
2.5	Thinking – Curiosity and Wonder	40
2.6	Thinking – Skepticism	44
2.7	Diversifying	48
2.8	Parochial Science – Possessiveness and Boundaries	55
2.9	The Tools (Part 1) – Tools and Mechanics of Research: Putting Together Your Toolbox	56

Contents

- 2.10 The Tools (Part 2) – Handy Tools,
But Not Always Needed 71

3 Non-technical Areas 83

- 3.1 Communicating 83
 - 3.1.1 The General Common Points 83
 - 3.1.2 Eloquence – Speaking Easily the First
Time 87
 - 3.1.3 Writing a Paper – The Basic Mechanics
Help 94
 - 3.1.4 Writing with Style 106
 - 3.1.5 Listening 112
- 3.2 Networking – Becoming an Integral Part of Your Field 115
- 3.3 Collaborative Research 123
- 3.4 Diversity in Science – Being Open-
Minded 131
- 3.5 Using a Mentor 134
- 3.6 Being a Mentor 139
- 3.7 Behaviors 146
 - 3.7.1 Personalities and Styles in Dealing with Others 146
 - 3.7.2 Dealing with Those on the Dark Side
– Difficult and Worse People 153
 - 3.7.3 Ethics – The Right Things To Do 164
- 3.8 Teams, Teamwork, and Leadership 168
- 3.9 Balancing Professional and Private Time 180

4 Career Changes 187

- 4.1 The Rewards of Working in Industry
– Starting and Choosing a Direction from
Graduate School to an Industrial Career 187

4.2	Industry Versus Academia – The Merits of an Industrial Career in Contrast to One in Academia	190
4.3	Resume and Curriculum Vitae – Getting the message Across	194
4.4	The Grass is Greener – A Comparison Between Workplaces	201
4.5	Changing Hats – Supervising and Managing	213
4.6	Personal Skills and Assessments	224
4.7	Degree of Difficulty – Non-advanced Degree Chemists	232
4.8	Pursuit of Non-traditional Careers in Chemistry – Chemists Without Lab Coats	238

5	Bibliography	251
---	--------------	-----

	Acknowledgements	257
--	------------------	-----

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-540-20899-0>

Career Management for Chemists

A Guide to Success in a Chemistry Career

Fetzer, J.

2004, XI, 266 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-540-20899-0