

Contents

Absolute Historicity, Theory of the Becoming Absolute, and the Affect for the Particular in German Idealism and Historism:

| | |
|-----------------------|---|
| Introduction | |
| PETER KOSLOWSKI | 1 |

Part A

German Idealism's Philosophy of History and its Contemporary Critique

Chapter 1

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|---|
| Schlegel's Theory of History and his Critique of Idealistic Reason | |
| PETER L. OESTERREICH | 9 |

Chapter 2

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| History as the Control of Speculation: | |
| Schelling's Discovery of History and Baader's Critique of Absolute Historicity | |
| PETER KOSLOWSKI | 23 |

CONTENTS

Part B

The Theory of History in German Historism

Chapter 3

| | |
|----------------------|----|
| Leopold von Ranke | |
| HELMUT BERDING | 41 |

Chapter 4

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Droysen and Nietzsche: Two Different Answers to the Discovery of Historicity | |
| ANNETTE WITTKAU-HORGBY | 59 |

Chapter 5

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Philosophy of History and Theory of Historiography in Jacob Burckhardt | |
| EGON FLAIG | 77 |

Chapter 6

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| Historiography as Political Activity: | |
| Heinrich von Treitschke and the Historical Reconstruction of Politics | |
| KARL H. METZ | 98 |

Chapter 7

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Literary Criticism and Historical Science: The Textuality of History in the Age of Goethe – and Beyond | |
| DANIEL FULDA | 112 |

CONTENTS

Chapter 8

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Social and Philosophical Theory in the 19 th Century German Thought | |
| MARIO SIGNORE | 134 |

Part C

German Theory and Philosophy of History Today

Chapter 9

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Philosophy of History After the End of the Formative Substantial Philosophy of History: Remarks on the Present State of the Philosophy of History | |
| HANS MICHAEL BAUMGARTNER | 149 |

Chapter 10

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Why Kant's Reflections on History Still Have Relevance | |
| HERTA NAGL-DOCEKAL | 172 |

Chapter 11

| | |
|------------------------------------------|-----|
| Rehabilitating the Philosophy of History | |
| JOHANNES ROHBECK | 187 |

Chapter 12

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| History and Subjectivity – The Relevance of a Philosophical Concept of History in the Kantian Tradition | |
| MATTHIAS LUTZ-BACHMANN | 212 |

CONTENTS

Chapter 13

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Towards a New Theory-Based History of Historiography | |
| HORST WALTER BLANKE | 223 |

Chapter 14

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Philosophy of History After the Philosophy of History: Toward a Cultural History with Historical-Philosophical Background | |
| HEINZ DIETER KITTSTEINER | 268 |

| | |
|-----------------------|-----|
| List of Authors | 283 |
|-----------------------|-----|

| | |
|----------------------|-----|
| Index of Names | 285 |
|----------------------|-----|

The Discovery of Historicity in German Idealism and Historism

Koslowski, P. (Ed.)

2005, VIII, 292 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-540-24393-9