Editorial 1

1 Multi-modal Robot Interfaces

Introduction 5

Touch: The Intuitive Type of Human and Robot Interaction..... 9

Tactile Interaction between Human and Robot 23

Instructing a Robot Assistant through Speech and Gesture..... 35

Next Generation Teach Pendants for Industrial Robots 47

2 Perception, Interpretation and Interaction

Introduction 67

Statistical Recognition of Motion Patterns 69

Recursive Agent Modeling with Probabilistic Velocity Obstacles for Mobile Robot Navigation among Humans 89

Extracting Subgoals from Fine Manipulation Tasks..... 105

3 Learning, Programming and Instructing

Introduction	117
Mapping Complex Tasks to Robots: Programming by Demonstration in Real-World Environments	119
Interactive Learning Methods for Manufacturing Assistants	137
Learning Behavioral Sequences by Means of Nonlinear Dynamics	147

4 Co-existence: Physical Interaction and Coordinated Motion

Introduction	161
Interactions with an Kinematic Redundant Robot while Balancing an Inverted Pendulum	165
Calculating Human Like Grasp Shapes: Pinch Grasp	181
Motion Planning for Domestic Robot Assistants.....	195
Coordinating the Motion of a Human and a Robot in a Crowded, Natural Environment	207

5 Safety and Dependability

Introduction	221
Dependability of Mobile Robots in Direct Interaction with Humans.....	223
Safety Improvement by Fault Diagnosis and Fault Recovery for the Perceptual System of Mobile Robots	241
Toward Safe Robot-Human Co-Operation in Manufacturing	255

6 Architecture

Introduction	267
Behavior Generation for Anthropomorphic Robots by means of Dynamical Systems	269
An Architecture for Interactive Robots based on Nonlinear Dynamics	301
The Control Architecture of Care-O-bot II	321

7 Systems and Applications

Introduction	331
A Robot Assistant for Manufacturing: Interactive Teaching of Operation Sequences	335
Robot Assistants as Simple and Effective Tools in Manufacturing Environments	347
The Robotic Bar - An Integrated Demonstration of a Robotic Assistant	359
Robotic Home Assistant Care-O-bot II	371
A Cooperative Robotic Assistant for Human Environments	385
Towards Benchmarking of Domestic Robotic Assistants	403

Advances in Human-Robot Interaction
