

Table of Contents

Introduction: Practitioner's perspective of diplomacy	1
Part I Essentials of modern diplomacy	13
Chapter 1 Diplomacy between statecraft and social science	25
Chapter 2 Internalization of diplomacy or internationalization of domestic policy	27
Chapter 3 From national to European Foreign Service	31
Chapter 4 Symbolism and ritual in multilateral diplomacy	35
Chapter 5 Flexibility and pragmatism as response to global challenges	39
I. Track-two diplomacy	39
II. Disaster diplomacy	40
Chapter 6 Reciprocity versus communitarianism	45
Part II Transformation of globalized relations and its impact on diplomacy	51
Chapter 7 New participants and corporate diplomacy: symbiosis of diplomacy and transnational companies	53
Chapter 8 Citizen diplomats and public relations diplomacy: popularization of diplomacy	69
Part III Towards a diplomatic corporate identity?	73
Chapter 9 The importance of an international diplomatic culture	75
Chapter 10 The relevance of language	79
Part IV Globalized relations and the law	83
Chapter 11 Private authority in transnational relations	85
Chapter 12 Transnational regime as soft law	89
Chapter 13 Judicial review of governmental diplomacy	95
I. Public international law of state immunity	95
II. Comparative study of domestic legal systems	96
1. Act of State doctrine in the United Kingdom	99
2. Political Question doctrine in the United States of America	107

3. French Act of Government	117
4. Judicial review of foreign affairs in Germany	123
III. National Courts and international relations	131

Conclusions and outlook:

Diplomacy as an instrument of globalized societies	139
---	------------

Diplomacy and International Law in Globalized Relations

Bolewski, W.

2007, VI, 147 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-540-71100-1