

Contents

Contributors.....	IX
Welcome Address and Introduction
Marine Pollution as a Topic of Research and Policy
Jürgen Basedow	1
Part I: Ecological Aspects of Marine Pollution.....	5
Survey: Sources, Paths and Effects of Marine Pollution
Jürgen Sündermann	7
Modelling the Fate of Persistent Toxic Substances in the North Sea: γ -HCH and PCB 153 Multiyear Simulations
Tatjana Ilyina	15
Rebuilding the Eastern Baltic Cod Stock in a System of Change – An MPA Approach
Christine Röckmann	23
Part II: Prevention of Marine Pollution – Institutional Foundations	39
Prevention of Marine Pollution: The Contribution of IMO
Thomas A. Mensah	41
The Contribution of the European Union to Marine Pollution Prevention
Ludwig Krämer	63
HELCOM's Contribution to the Prevention of Marine Pollution
Anne Christine Brusendorff	85
Transport of Hazardous and Noxious Goods by Sea – The IMDG Code
Meltem Deniz Güner	95

Part III: Compensation for Marine Pollution.....	111
Origins and Compensation of Marine Pollution – A Survey
Peter Ehlers	113
Maritime Pollution – Compensation or Enforcement?
Rüdiger Wolfrum	129
The International Oil Pollution Compensation Funds and the International Regime of Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage
Måns Jacobsson	137
Compensation by the Coastal States – The Prestige Disaster
Juan L. Pulido	151
International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage, 2001 – Liability and Insurance Aspects
Ling Zhu	171
Closing Remarks
Ulrich Magnus	181

Pollution of the Sea - Prevention and Compensation

Basedow, J.; Magnus, U. (Eds.)

2007, XII, 186 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-540-73395-9