

Contents

Part I Setting the Stage	1
1 Introduction: From Implicit to Explicit Theories	3
Everyday Life Theories and Facts of Life	3
Moving from Implicit to Explicit Theories	5
Multiple Levels of Social Reality and Contrasting Theoretical Perspectives	8
Agency and Structure	12
National Variations in the Origins of Sociological Theory	13
Postrevolutionary French Positivism.....	14
German Historicism.....	14
English-Scottish Laissez-Faire Political Economy and British Utilitarianism	15
American Pragmatism and Micro-Level Interaction	17
Summary.....	19
2 Classical Stage European Sources of Sociological Theory	23
Social and Intellectual Background	24
Science, Social Evolution, and the Dream of a More Rational Society	25
Confronting the Nonrational Dimensions of Social Life.....	27
Dominant Figures in the Establishment of Sociology	29
Émile Durkheim: Sociology as the Science of Social Integration.....	29
Karl Marx: Human Needs, Class Conflict, and Social Change.....	32
Max Weber: Social Action as the Foundation of Society.....	34
Georg Simmel: Interaction Processes.....	39
Other Important Pioneers.....	42
Harriet Martineau: Discovering the Discrepancy Between Morals and Manners	42
Alexis de Tocqueville: An Analysis of American Democracy	44
Vilfredo Pareto: Logical Versus Nonlogical Action	44
Ferdinand Tönnies: Contrasting Community and Society.....	46

Marianne Weber: Exposing the Subordination of Women at Home and Work.....	46
Summary.....	49
3 Development of American Sociology: A Brief Historical Overview.....	53
Chicago School Beginnings: Social Interaction and Social Reform	54
George Herbert Mead and Social Behaviorism.....	54
Jane Addams: Applying Sociology Through Social Work and Social Reform	59
W. I. Thomas and the “Definition of the Situation”	61
Robert Ezra Park: Observing and Analyzing the Social Life of the City.....	62
Other Significant Pioneers in Early American Sociology	64
Charles Horton Cooley: Primary Groups and the Looking-Glass Self	64
W. E. B. Du Bois: African Americans’ Double Consciousness “Within the Veil”	65
Charlotte Perkins Gilman: Sexual Relations Related to Home and Work.....	69
Development of Functional Theory for Analyzing Society’s Institutional Structures.....	73
Talcott Parsons and the Development of Structural/Functional Theory	75
Alternative Perspectives Within Functionalism	76
Merton’s Middle-Range Functionalism.....	76
Coser’s Conflict Functionalism	76
Alternatives to Functionalism	76
Blumer and Symbolic Interactionism	76
Mills and Critical Sociology	76
Homans and Exchange Behaviorism.....	77
Summary.....	77
4 Formal Theory Construction: Developing Sociological Theory as Part of a Scientific Enterprise	81
Linking Theoretical Analysis and Empirical Research	82
Objective Versus Subjective Dimensions of Social Reality.....	83
Prediction versus Interpretation.....	85
Strategies of Formal Theory Construction	86
Concepts and Variables	87
Classification Systems.....	89
Propositions	90
Causes and Consequences	92
Interdependent Relations	93
Thresholds and Limits	94

The Challenge of Causal Explanation	96
Theory: A Set of Propositions	98
The Challenge of Multiple Paradigms: Underlying Assumptions, Beliefs, and Values that Influence Theory Construction.....	100
Summary.....	103
Part II Moving from Micro to Meso to Macro Levels	107
5 Symbolic Interaction: Constructing the Social World—and its Participants' Identities	109
Symbolic Interaction—Process Versus Structure.....	110
Roles and Identities.....	114
Staging Performances: The Dramaturgic Approach to Interaction	120
Teams and Audiences	122
The Precariousness of the Social World.....	123
Interaction Challenges of the Stigmatized.....	125
The Context of Interaction.....	126
Language, Social Reality, and the Cultural World.....	129
Summary.....	133
6 Phenomenological Sociology and Ethnomethodology: The Everyday Life World of Common Sense.....	137
Phenomenological Sociology: Alfred Schutz's Contributions.....	138
Personal Versus Intersubjective Consciousness	139
Meanings, Motives, and Accounts.....	141
Mutual Understanding in Personal Versus Impersonal Relations	143
Contemporaries, Predecessors, and Successors	145
Phenomenological Perspective on Sociological Knowledge.....	146
Ethnomethodology.....	148
Reciprocity of Perspectives	149
Context and Meaning.....	152
The Social Construction of Reality: Berger and Luckmann.....	155
Mutual Interdependence of Social Institutions and Subjective Consciousness.....	156
Cultural Homelessness in the Modern and Late Modern World.....	159
Summary.....	160
7 Social Exchange and Rational Choice at the Micro Level: Looking Out for #1	165
Historical Background: Individualistic Versus Collectivist Theories of Social Exchange	167
A Behavioral Approach to Elementary Exchanges: Contributions by George C. Homans.....	169

Behavioral Dynamics of Groups	169
Psychological Foundations of Social Relations.....	170
Applications of Exchange Theory to Elementary Social Behavior	173
Elementary Social Exchanges and the Emergence of Power
Structures: Peter Blau's Micro-Level Exchange Theory	175
Intrinsic Versus Extrinsic Rewards	177
Dilemmas of Attraction	178
How Power Structures Develop from Imbalanced Exchanges.....	179
Acquiring Power or Avoiding Subordination Through
Strategic Exchanges.....	180
Individual Interests and Group Dynamics	182
Individual Interests, Rights, and Resources: James Coleman's
Perspective on Exchanges Between Rational Actors	185
The Risk of Perverse Effects	188
Summary.....	191
8 Networking and Belonging: Opportunity Structures, Rational
Choice Exchanges, and the Sociology of Emotions.....	195
Opportunities and Limitations: Peter Blau's Structural Approach.....	196
Networks, Groups, and Personal Relationships.....	201
Network Analysis	201
Exchange Processes in Networks, Groups, and
Personal Relationships.....	204
Social Bonding and the Sociology of Emotions	206
Gender Differences in Emotional Bonding Versus Pursuit
of Self-Interests.....	209
Emotional Labor in Organizational Settings	214
Cyberspace Markets, Networks, and Personal Relationships.....	218
Summary.....	220
9 From Micro-Level Exchanges to Meso- and
Macro-Level Structures.....	223
Emergence of Macro Structures from Imbalanced Exchanges.....	224
Micro-Level Competition for Status and Power.....	224
Stabilization of Power Structures Through Norms and Values.....	226
From Power Structures to Meso and Macro Structures.....	227
Legitimation Versus Opposition of Power Structures	230
Institutionalization in Macro-Structures	232
Social Capital and Corporate Actors from a Rational
Choice Perspective.....	235
Normative and Legal Regulation of People's Behavior.....	236
Promoting Normative Conformity and Deterring Deviance	239
Social Capital and Public Goods	241

Establishment of Corporate Actors and Authority Relations	242
Corporate Actors Versus Natural Persons	247
Summary	248
10 Meso-Level Structures: Communities and Organizations	253
Communities: Actual, Potential, and Ideal	255
Geographical Communities	257
Ecology and Community in Urban Environments	258
Communities of Shared Interests and Values and Socioemotional Bonds	265
Formal Organizations and Individual Versus Collective Goals	267
Primary Beneficiaries of Organizational Goals	269
Organizational Control and Compliance Structures	270
Bureaucrats Versus Professionals in Organizational Settings	271
Formal Organizations as Open Systems	272
Variations in Interdependence	273
Variations in Boundary Permeability	274
Organizational Relations	276
Summary	277
11 Meso-Level Structures: Markets and Socioeconomic Classes	281
Markets and Individual Versus Collective Interests	283
Economic Market Instability and Government Regulation	284
Economic Versus Socioemotional Markets	285
Socioeconomic Classes	288
Economic Resources as the Foundation for Socioeconomic Stratification	288
Economic Classes in American Society	290
Education, Socioeconomic Status Groups, and Lifestyle	293
Occupational Authority Structures and Socioeconomic Class Cultures	295
Reproduction of Class Cultures: Material Conditions and Symbolic Definitions	300
Summary	306
12 Integration and Social Order at the Macro Level: Parsons’ Structural-Functional Perspective	309
From Social Action to Social Systems: Introducing Parsons’ Structural/Functional Theory	310
The Voluntaristic Theory of Social Action	312
The Pattern Variables: Variations in Subjective Orientations	313
The Strategy of Structural-Functional Analysis	317
Functional Requirements and Institutional Structures of Societies	318

The AGIL Framework	320
Subsystem (Institutional) Interchanges.....	325
Hierarchy of Cultural Control.....	327
Structural Differentiation in the Evolution of Modern Society	328
Human Life, Social Action, and Ultimate Reality.....	333
Summary.....	335
13 Middle-Range Functionalism and Neofunctionalism	339
Robert Merton and Middle-Range Functionalism.....	341
Middle-Range Functional Analysis	341
Latent Dysfunctions, Social Problems, and Social Change.....	344
Examples of Middle-Range Functional Theories	347
Social Structure and Anomie	347
The Bureaucratic Personality.....	348
Reference Group Theory	348
From Functionalism to Neofunctionalism	349
Social Action and Social Order: Jeffrey Alexander's
Multidimensional Perspective	350
Social Action and Social Order: Environmental Versus
Normative Influences.....	351
Alexander's Critique of Earlier Theories	355
Contrasting Dimensions of Action in Richard Münch's
Neofunctional Perspective.....	359
AGIL Dimensions of Action	359
Contrasting Theoretical Perspectives Related to the AGIL Framework	361
Summary.....	364
14 Conflict and Competition: Analytical Conflict Theories
at the Macro Level	367
Functional Analysis of Conflict: Lewis Coser's Contributions.....	368
Conflict Between Groups and In-Group Solidarity	369
Conflict and Group Solidarity	370
Realistic Versus Unrealistic Conflict.....	371
Conflict as a Stimulus for Cooperation Between Groups.....	372
Authority Relations and Conflicting Interests: Ralf
Dahrendorf's Contributions	373
Conflict Group Formation	375
Intensity and Violence of Conflict.....	377
Consequences of Conflict.....	378
Conflict Model Versus Functional Model	380
Stratification and Conflict in Interpersonal and Institutional
Settings: Randall Collins' Theoretical Synthesis	380
Interaction Rituals and Social Stratification.....	383

Occupation, Authority Relations, and Socioeconomic Status	384
Applications of the Model	386
World Systems Theory and International Exploitation:
Immanuel Wallerstein's Contributions	387
Summary	392
15 Critical Theory: Social System Requirements
Versus Human Needs	397
C. Wright Mills: The Sociological Imagination
and Critical Analysis	399
Historical Development of the American Power Structure	400
Mass Media and Mass Society	402
The American Power Structure and the "Iron Law
of Oligarchy"	403
Theoretical Developments Within Marxism	404
Development of American Critical Theory	407
Lifeworld Versus System: The Critical Perspective
of Jürgen Habermas	409
The Legitimation Crisis in the Political Organization of Capitalism	409
Alternative Forms of Communication and Rationality	412
Knowledge and Power in Michel Foucault's Perspective	415
Surveillance and Social Control	417
Professional Expertise and Social Control	418
Summary	422
Part III Exploring Multi-Level Theoretical Perspectives	427
16 Feminist Theory at Multiple Levels: Analytical and Critical	429
Feminist Critique of Sociology: Dorothy Smith's
Standpoint Theory	431
Exploring Differences Among Women in Multiple Hierarchies
of Domination in Patricia Hill Collins' Perspective	434
Micro-Level Analyses of Gender Differences	436
Biological Sex and Gender Differences	437
Male-Female Differences in Socioemotional Bonds
with Parents	439
Matters of Life and Death	440
Wives Versus Husbands in Family Life	441
Macro-Level Critique of Male Domination	443
Institutional Differentiation and the Organized
Control of Violence	444

Evolutionary Progress from a Feminist Functionalist Perspective.....	446
Explaining Gender Inequality: Janet Saltzman Chafetz's Theory of Gender Stratification.....	447
Mechanisms of Macro-Level Domination Through Impersonal Texts	451
Summary.....	454
17 Human Agency, the Structuration Process, and Social Systems: Linking Micro, Meso, and Macro Levels of Analysis	459
Structuration Theory: Reproduction and Transformation of the Social World	460
Agency	462
Social Structures and Systems	465
Sociological Analysis and Public Discourse	468
The Dynamics of Open Systems.....	469
Walter Buckley's "Morphogenic Process"
Model of Social Systems	470
Variations in Social System Dynamics.....	473
Feedback Cycles in Goal-Oriented Systems.....	474
Morphogenesis, Morphostasis, and Entropy	476
From Unorganized to Organized Complexity: Niklas Luhmann's Perspective on the Self-Creation of Social Systems.....	477
Self-Organization and Boundary Formation	478
Social Systems Versus Psychic Systems	479
Managing Complexity	482
Interaction Versus Organization Versus Society as Systems.....	484
Summary.....	487
18 The Sociobiological Perspective: Biological Versus Cultural Influences on Human Behavior	491
The Historical Background of Social Darwinism.....	492
Exploring the Biological and Genetic Foundations of Social Behavior	495
Sex Roles and Reproductive Behavior	498
Parenting Behavior	502
Altruism and Cooperation Within Groups.....	506
Competition and Conflict	508
Status Competition and Dominance Hierarchies Within Groups...	509
War and Peace in Intergroup Relations	511
Religion and Sociobiological Evolution.....	512
Sociobiology and Cultural Evolution	515
Summary.....	516

19 The Dynamics of Cultural Systems	519
Cultural Learning and Human Survival.....	520
Cultural Morphogenesis: Consistencies and Contradictions in Knowledge and Beliefs in Margaret Archer's Perspective.....	521
Civilized Behavior, Centralization of Power, and Functional Interdependence in Norbert Elias's Theory	526
Self-Control and Civilized Manners.....	527
Political Centralization and Expansion of Functional Interdependence.....	529
The Struggle Between Good and Evil: Jeffrey Alexander's Cultural Sociology	535
Summary.....	539
20 Postmodern Social and Cultural Fragmentation	543
Postmodernity or Late Modernity?	544
Skepticism Regarding Knowledge and Authority	548
Globalization and its Impact on Nation-States and Local Settings	550
Mass Media and the Representation Versus the Simulation of Reality	553
Popular Culture and Experiments in Identity Construction.....	556
Enchanted Consumption as a Source of Identity and Status	558
Sociology of the Body: Body Shaping and Decorating as Expressive Reactions to Individual Anonymity	560
Summary.....	563
21 Conclusion	567
Preliminary Stage Setting	567
From Micro to Meso to Macro Levels.....	569
Toward Theoretical Integration: Strategies and Challenges.....	578
Glossary	585
References	601
Index	615

Contemporary Sociological Theory

An Integrated Multi-Level Approach

Johnson, D.P.

2008, XXII, 630 p. 3 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-0-387-76521-1