

Contents

Introduction	1
Anna Marie Prentiss, Ian Kuijt, and James C. Chatters
Part I Issues in Macroevolutionary Theory
1 Proximate Causation, Group Selection, and the Evolution of Hierarchical Human Societies: System, Process, and Pattern . .	23
Michael Rosenberg
2 Landscape Learning in Relation to Evolutionary Theory	51
Marcy Rockman
3 “The Multiplication of Forms:” Bering Strait Harpoon Heads as a Demic and Macroevolutionary Proxy	73
Owen K. Mason
Part II Macroevolutionary Approaches to Cultural Change
4 The Emergence of New Socioeconomic Strategies in the Middle and Late Holocene Pacific Northwest Region of North America	111
Anna Marie Prentiss
5 Testing the Morphogenesisist Model of Primary State Formation: The Zapotec Case	133
Charles S. Spencer
6 Evolutionary Biology and the Emergence of Agriculture: The Value of Co-opted Models of Evolution in the Study of Culture Change	157
Melinda A. Zeder
Part III Cultural Diversification, Stasis and Extinction as Macroevolutionary Processes
7 A Macroevolutionary Perspective on the Archaeological Record of North America	213
James C. Chatters

8	Cultural Stasis and Change in Northern North America: A Macroevolutionary Perspective	235
	Anna Marie Prentiss and Michael Lenert
9	Niche Construction, Macroeolution, and the Late Epipaleolithic of the Near East	253
	Ian Kuijt and Anna Marie Prentiss
Part IV Macroevolutionary Theory in Archaeology
10	Macroevolutionary Theory and Archaeology: Is There a Big Picture?	275
	Robert L. Bettinger
11	Material Cultural Macroeolution	297
	Niles Eldredge
Index		317

Macroevolution in Human Prehistory
Evolutionary Theory and Processual Archaeology
Prentiss, A.; Kuijt, I.; Chatters, J.C. (Eds.)
2009, IX, 324 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-1-4419-0681-6