

Contents

Acronyms	xxv
1 Waves and Wave Spectra	1
1.1 Oceanographers Learn About Power Spectra	1
1.2 Wave Prediction	3
1.3 Where the Swell Begins	6
2 Coming to America	11
2.1 Coming to America	13
2.2 Caltech	17
2.3 Serving in the Army	20
2.4 Clearance Problems	21
3 Bikini (1946) and Eniwetok (1951)	25
4 Settling Down at Scripps	33
4.1 Munk Finally Gets His Degree	33
4.2 Wind-Driven Ocean Circulation	34
5 From Waves to Tides 1958–1968	35
6 Deep Sea Tides 1964–2000	39
6.1 The Alleged Suicide of Aristotle	43
7 Internal Waves 1971–1981	47
8 Ocean Acoustics 1974–Present	51
8.1 The Gulf Stream Sheds Eddies	53
8.2 The MODE Experiments	54
8.3 Ocean Acoustic Tomography	54
8.4 Heard Island	57
8.5 Whales	62
8.6 The Last Twenty Years	63

9 Mohole 1957–1964 67

10 The Wobbling Earth 1950–1960 71

11 Institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics (IGPP) 1962–Present 75

 11.1 The Cambridge Connection 75

 11.2 Finding the Faculty 80

 11.3 Building the Laboratory 82

12 Navy 91

13 Finis 99

14 Epilogue 103

Index 135

Seventy Years of Exploration in Oceanography
A Prolonged Weekend Discussion with Walter Munk
Hasselmann, K.
2010, XXVI, 137 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-642-12086-2