

Contents

1	Performance Measurement and Indicators	1
1.1	Company Management and Performance Measurement	1
1.2	Operational Performances	3
1.3	Customer Satisfaction Measurement	5
2	Cost and Productivity Performances	9
2.1	Innovation in the Accounting Systems	9
2.2	Balance Sheet Indicators and Corporate Value	10
2.3	Capital Budgeting: Investment Analysis and Evaluation	12
2.4	Cost Accounting	13
2.5	Relationship Between Cost Performance and Economic-Financial Results	15
2.6	Cost Performance Measurement	17
2.7	Efficiency and Productivity Performance Measurement	20
3	Non-cost Performances	23
3.1	Total Quality Management and Quality Dimensions	23
3.2	Purchasing and Vendor Quality Rating	25
3.3	Engineering and Manufacturing Internal Quality	26
3.4	Quality Costs	28
3.5	Time Performances	29
3.6	The Flexibility Performance	32
4	Performance Measurement Systems	35
4.1	What is PMS?	35
4.1.1	PMS Evolution	36
4.1.2	Dashboards – Balanced Scorecard	36
4.1.3	Business Intelligence Technology	37
4.1.4	Importance and purposes of the PMS	38

4.2	PMS Characteristics	39
4.2.1	Performance Indicators and Measures	39
4.2.2	Architecture	41
4.2.3	Interfaces	42
4.3	PMS Models	43
4.3.1	Vertical/Hierarchical and Truncated-Pyramid Models	44
4.3.2	Balanced Scorecard or Tableau de Bord Models	48
4.3.3	Value Chain and By-Process Models	55
5	Design and Integration of the PMS	61
5.1	The Design/Implementation Process	61
5.2	PMS and Organization	65
5.3	Human Resource Evaluation	65
5.4	Measuring Intangible Assets	69
5.5	PMS and Strategy	73
5.6	Performance Improvement Projects	76
5.7	Future Research on PMS	77
6	Performance Management: From Decision Support to Performance Governance	81
6.1	Main Components of CPM Frameworks	84
6.1.1	Planning and Forecasting	84
6.1.2	Balanced Scorecard and Dashboard	85
6.1.3	Profitability and Cost Management	85
6.1.4	Group Reporting and Financial Consolidation	85
6.2	CPM Softwares	86
6.2.1	Oracle Hyperion	87
6.2.2	SAP Business Objects	87
6.2.3	IBM Cognos	88
6.2.4	SAS	88
6.2.5	Microsoft	88
6.2.6	Board	89
6.2.7	Tagetik	89
6.3	CPM Project Enablers	89
6.3.1	Metrics Definition	90
6.3.2	Cause-Effect Maps and Relationships	90
6.3.3	Modeling Data Management	91
6.4	Key Roles	91
6.4.1	The Management Consultant	92
6.4.2	The Business Intelligence Expert	92
6.4.3	The Performance Management Architect	92

7 Luxottica, a New “Vision” for the Supply Chain	95
7.1 The Success of Luxottica	96
7.1.1 A Constantly Changing Scenario	96
7.1.2 The Needs of the Supply Chain	97
7.2 Operational Performance Management	98
7.2.1 OPM and the SCOR Model	98
7.2.2 Analysis and Approach	99
7.2.3 Critical Success Factors	100
7.3 Supply Chain Processes	102
7.3.1 Raw Material Logistics	102
7.3.2 Product Lifecycle	103
7.3.3 Finished Product Logistics	104
7.3.4 Quality	104
7.3.5 Planning	105
7.3.6 Purchasing	106
7.3.7 Product Development	106
7.4 From the Map to the OPM Solution	106
7.4.1 The Project Architecture	108
7.4.2 Conclusions	108
 8 The Monte dei Paschi di Siena “Controlling Data Farm”, the CPM of the Oldest Bank in the World	 113
8.1 Performance in a Bank Group	114
8.1.1 CPM as an Organisational and Information Synthesis	114
8.1.2 Multi-management Integration of Information	115
8.1.3 The Design Guidelines	117
8.2 Workshop Interventions	119
8.2.1 Reporting	119
8.2.2 Network Control	120
8.2.3 Flows/CRM	120
8.2.4 Costs	121
8.2.5 Finance	121
8.2.6 Risk Management	122
8.2.7 Quality of the Credit	123
8.2.8 Wealth Risk Management	123
8.3 Integration Drivers	124
8.3.1 The Product Master Catalogue	124
8.3.2 The Consistency Between Subsidiaries and Business Segments	125
8.3.3 As-Is and Pro-Forma Vision	127
8.4 Macro Information Flow Architecture	127
8.4.1 Architectural Criticalities	128
8.5 The Continuous Evolution of CPM	129

9	Sorgenia, Giving Energy to Performance	135
9.1	The Liberalisation of the Electricity Market	136
9.1.1	Production	136
9.1.2	Transmission and Distribution	136
9.1.3	Sales	137
9.2	Eligibility and Market Segments	137
9.3	Sorgenia and the Balanced Scorecard	138
9.3.1	Critical Success Factors	139
9.3.2	The Perspectives	140
9.4	The Key Performance Indicators	142
9.4.1	Defining targets	143
9.4.2	The Scoring Process by KPI and Segment	144
9.4.3	The Scoring Process by Perspective and Total	145
9.5	From the Segment to the Company	147
9.5.1	The Results Achieved	148
	References	149
	Index	153

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-642-13234-6>

Performance Measurement

Linking Balanced Scorecard to Business Intelligence

Quagini, L.; Tonchia, S.

2010, XIII, 156 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-642-13234-6