

Contents

1 Introduction.....	1
Bas van Vliet, Gert Spaargaren and Peter Oosterveer
Part 1 Social Scientific Concepts of Provisioning Sanitation Services
2 Meeting Social Challenges in Developing Sustainable Environmental Infrastructures in East African Cities	11
Peter Oosterveer and Gert Spaargaren
3 Sense and Sanitation.....	31
Bas van Vliet and Gert Spaargaren
4 Providing Sanitation for the Urban Poor in Uganda.....	49
James Okot-Okumu and Peter Oosterveer
Part II Decision-Making Tools
5 A Flowstream Approach for Sustainable Sanitation Systems	69
Elizabeth Tilley, Christian Zurbrügg and Christoph Lüthi
6 A Learning and Decision Methodology for Drainage and Sanitation Improvement in Developing Cities	87
Joost van Buuren and Astrid Hendriksen
7 Perceptions of Local Sustainability in Planning Sanitation Projects in West Africa	105
Jennifer McConville, Jaan-Henrik Kain and Elisabeth Kvarnström
8 Interactions Between Urban Forms and Source-Separating Sanitation Technologies	125
Franziska Meininger, Volker Ziedorn and Irene Peters

9	Reconsidering Urban Sewer and Treatment Facilities in East Africa as Interplay of Flows, Networks and Spaces.....	145
	Sammy Letema, Bas van Vliet and Jules B. van Lier
10	Meeting the Sanitation Challenge in Sub-Saharan Cities: Lessons Learnt from a Financial Perspective.....	163
	Jérémie Toubkiss
Part III Perspectives from Farmers and End-Users
11	Role of Farmers in Improving the Sustainability of Sanitation Systems.....	179
	Håkan Jönsson, Pernilla Tidåker and Anna Richert Stintzing
12	Governing Peri-Urban Waste Water Used by Farmers: Implications for Design and Management.....	189
	Reginald Grendelman and Frans Huibers
13	End User Perspectives on the Transformation of Sanitary Systems.....	203
	Dries Hegger and Bas van Vliet
14	Conclusion and Discussion.....	217
	Gert Spaargaren, Bas van Vliet and Peter Oosterveer
	Index.....	227

Social Perspectives on the Sanitation Challenge
van Vliet, B.; Spaargaren, G.; Oosterveer, P. (Eds.)
2010, XIII, 242 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-90-481-3720-6