

Contents

Part I Introductory Section

- 1 Chemical Communication in Crustaceans: Research Challenges for the Twenty-First Century..... 3
Martin Thiel and Thomas Breithaupt
- 2 Pheromones and Behavior ..... 23
Tristram D. Wyatt

Part II General Overview of Signal Characteristics and Reception

- 3 Crustaceans as Powerful Models in Aquatic Chemical Ecology..... 41
Mark E. Hay
- 4 Waterborne Chemical Communication: Stimulus Dispersal Dynamics and Orientation Strategies in Crustaceans ..... 63
Marc J. Weissburg
- 5 Hydrodynamics of Sniffing by Crustaceans ..... 85
Mimi A.R. Koehl
- 6 Chemosensory Sensilla in Crustaceans ..... 103
Eric Hallberg and Malin Skog
- 7 Neuronal Processing of Chemical Information in Crustaceans..... 123
Manfred Schmidt and DeForest Mellon, Jr.

8 The Neural and Behavioral Basis of Chemical Communication in Terrestrial Crustaceans.....	149
Bill S. Hansson, Steffen Harzsch, Markus Knaden, and Marcus Stensmyr

Part III Chemical Communication and Behavior

9 Chemical Communication Between Copepods: Finding the Mate in a Fluid Environment.....	177
Jeannette Yen and Rachel Lasley
10 Chemical Communication in Peracarid Crustaceans.....	199
Martin Thiel
11 Mantis Shrimp: Olfactory Apparatus and Chemosensory Behavior.....	219
Kristina Mead and Roy Caldwell
12 Chemical Communication in Lobsters.....	239
Juan Aggio and Charles D. Derby
13 Chemical Communication in Crayfish.....	257
Thomas Breithaupt
14 Chemical Communication in Decapod Shrimps: The Influence of Mating and Social Systems on the Relative Importance of Olfactory and Contact Pheromones.....	277
Raymond T. Bauer
15 Chemical Ecology and Social Behavior of Anomura .....	297
Francesca Gherardi and Elena Tricarico
16 Deception in Visual and Chemical Communication in Crustaceans .....	313
John H. Christy and Dan Rittschof
17 Chemical Communication in a Multimodal Context .....	335
Eileen A. Hebets and Aaron Rundus
18 Chemical Cues and Reducing the Risk of Predation .....	355
Brian A. Hazlett

Part IV Towards Identification of Chemical Signals

19 Identification of Crustacean Sex Pheromones.....	373
Joerg D. Hardege and John A. Terschak
20 Approaches to a Molecular Identification of Sex Pheromones in Blue Crabs.....	393
Michiya Kamio and Charles D. Derby
21 The Crustacean Endocrine System and Pleiotropic Chemical Messengers.....	413
Ernest S. Chang
22 Toward a Characterization of the Chemical Cue to Barnacle Gregariousness.....	431
Anthony S. Clare
23 Contact Chemoreception and Its Role in Zooplankton Mate Recognition.....	451
Terry Snell
24 A Review of Research in Fish Pheromones.....	467
Yu-Wen Chung-Davidson, Mar Huertas, and Weiming Li

Part V Applied Aspects

25 Chemical Communication and Aquaculture of Decapod Crustaceans: Needs, Problems, and Possible Solutions.....	485
Assaf Barki, Clive Jones, and Ilan Karplus
26 Effects of Pollutants on Olfactory Mediated Behaviors in Fish and Crustaceans.....	507
K. Håkan Olsén
27 Insect Pheromones: Useful Lessons for Crustacean Pheromone Programs?.....	531
Thomas C. Baker
Index.....	551
