

Contents

Editorial: Why Should Sectors Matter? .....	1
Stefan Mann
 Part I Sectors Matter for Society
On the Reality Behind Money .....	7
Erik Händeler
Merit Sectors .....	41
Stefan Mann
 Part II Sectors Matter for Development
Economic Growth Through the Emergence of New Sectors .....	55
Andreas Pyka and Pier Paolo Saviotti
Mesoeconomics: Bridging Micro and Macro in a Schumpeterian Key ..	103
Kurt Dopfer
Coordination on “Meso”-Levels: On the Co-evolution of Institutions, Networks and Platform Size .....	115
Wolfram Elsner and Torsten Heinrich
 Part III Sectors Matter in Practice
Changes in Industrial Structure and Economic Growth: Postwar Japanese Experiences .....	167
Hiroshi Yoshikawa and Shuko Miyakawa

The Meseconomics of Social Industries .....	219
Benoit Pierre Freyens
Governmental Discrimination Between Sectors: The Case of Australian Water Policy .....	239
Lin Crase and Sue O’Keefe
About the Authors .....	251

Sectors Matter!

Exploring Mesoeconomics

Mann, S. (Ed.)

2011, VI, 252 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-642-18125-2