 - 1.11.3 Nonegocentric Individualism and King
Minos’ Labyrinth 107
 - 1.11.4 Challenges Faced by Epibramatics 109
- 2 Problem-Solving Revisited..... 111
 - 2.1 The Role of Philosophy in IPS 111
 - 2.1.1 Factual and Conceptual Features 111
 - 2.1.2 Synthesis of Philosophical and Scientific
Perspectives 112

2.2	Historical Perspectives: From Heraclitus to Kuhn	113
2.2.1	Heraclitus' River	114
2.2.2	Parmenides Apology	114
2.2.3	Socrates' Maieutic	115
2.2.4	Plato's Forms and Value Invariance.....	115
2.2.5	Aristotle's Philosophy of Depths	116
2.2.6	Descartes' Cogito, Ergo Sum	117
2.2.7	Spinoza's Omni Determinatio Est Negatio.....	118
2.2.8	Locke's Tabula Rasa.....	118
2.2.9	Hume's Skepticism	119
2.2.10	Kant's Synthesis	119
2.2.11	Hegel's Dialectics	120
2.2.12	Darwin's Evolutionary Adaptation	121
2.2.13	Wittgenstein's Living Practice	121
2.2.14	Popper's Constructive Criticism.....	122
2.2.15	Kuhn's Paradigm	122
2.3	Rethink Everything	124
2.3.1	Che Fece ... Il Gran Rifiuto.....	124
2.3.2	Problem Formulation and Solution Meaning: Einstein's 19/20 Rule	127
2.3.3	Taking Stock: Four Key Elements	132
2.3.4	Different Kinds of Problem–Solutions	133
2.4	Va, Pensiero, Sull' Ali Dorate	134
2.4.1	The Color That Fills in the Missing Data Gaps.....	135
2.4.2	The Essence of Metaphor.....	136
2.5	Too Many Data–Too Little Sense, Mr. Grandgrind	137
2.5.1	The Datacentric Worldview and Its Perils	138
2.5.2	Empty Cliches and the Illuminati	139
2.5.3	The Didactic Case of the Deutsche Physik.....	142
2.5.4	The Glass and the Mirror.....	142
2.6	Paradigm and Via Negativa.....	143
2.6.1	The Decisive Role of the Paradigm	143
2.6.2	Learning Through Unlearning: Like Howling Bullets at Crux Moments	147
3	Emergence of Epibramatics.....	149
3.1	The Living Experience Outlook	149
3.1.1	Epistemic Context and Deep Theory.....	150
3.1.2	Mathematical Formulation of Knowledge Synthesis	151
3.1.3	Thinking “Outside the Box”.....	152
3.2	The Background of Synthesis.....	153
3.2.1	Evolutionary Theories of Knowledge	153
3.2.2	Cognition	155
3.2.3	Consciousness, Qualia, and Intentionality	157

3.2.4	Cybernetics.....	160
3.2.5	Epibramatics' Synthesis.....	161
3.3	Brain as an Apparatus with Which We Think We Think	161
3.3.1	A Bridge Between Nature and Humankind	161
3.3.2	The Role of Philosophy.....	162
3.4	If Plato Were Alive	164
3.4.1	IPS That Fits Mental Functions.....	164
3.4.2	Quantitative Representation of Mental Functions.....	165
3.4.3	Brain Parts and Their Activities	166
3.4.4	Learning from Brain Activities	168
3.5	Fundamental IPS Postulates	169
3.5.1	Concerning the CoP.....	171
3.5.2	Concerning the CP.....	172
3.5.3	Concerning the TP.....	174
3.5.4	Concerning the AP.....	175
3.5.5	Parmenides' Gate and Morrison's Doors	176
3.6	Knowledge Bases	177
3.6.1	Knowledge Classifications.....	177
3.6.2	The Sant'Alvise Nuns in Old Venice.....	183
3.6.3	Papists and Experimentalists.....	185
3.6.4	KB Consistency	186
3.7	Problem–Solutions Suspended in Language.....	188
3.7.1	George Steiner's Perspective	189
3.7.2	On Metalanguage	189
3.7.3	Niels Bohr's Epistemology of Modern Science.....	190
3.8	When Truth Is Bigger Than Proof.....	192
3.8.1	Ignoramus vel Ignorabimus.....	192
3.8.2	The Case of Multidisciplinarity.....	195
3.9	The Structure of Knowledge.....	196
3.9.1	About the Way Knowledge Is Claimed and Constructed.....	196
3.9.2	Epistemic Standards of Knowledge	197
3.9.3	Psychological Issues of Knowledge	199
3.10	A Fusion of Ideas and Functions: A Man's Ithaca.....	200
3.10.1	Thinking in Literary Terms.....	200
3.10.2	Licentia Poetica	201
3.10.3	The Augsburg Man	202
3.10.4	Reviewing Old Ideas in New Contexts.....	203
4	Space–Time and Uncertainty.....	205
4.1	The “Canvas Vs. Parenthood” Dilemma	205
4.1.1	Making Progress One Funeral After Another	205
4.1.2	The Sea of Space and Time	206

4.2	Space–Time Domain and Its Characterization	207
4.2.1	Greek and Hebrew Conceptions of Space–Time	208
4.2.2	Space–Time Continuum	209
4.2.3	Space as a Mode of Thought	210
4.2.4	The Meaning of Time.....	210
4.2.5	The Space–Time Metric	211
4.2.6	Separable Metric Structure.....	212
4.2.7	Composite Metric Structure	213
4.2.8	Fractal Metric Structure.....	215
4.2.9	The Informativeness of Metrics	216
4.3	Dealing with Uncertainty	217
4.3.1	Kundera’s Paths in the Fog	217
4.3.2	Toward an Anthropology of Uncertainty	218
4.3.3	Uncertainty and Structure in Aristotle’s Poetics	222
4.3.4	Uncertainty as an Ingredient of Creativity	223
4.4	Probability and Its Interpretations	225
4.4.1	The History of a Concept	226
4.4.2	Abstraction and Interpretation	227
4.4.3	Kolmogorov’s Formal Approach and Its Interpretive Incompleteness	227
4.4.4	Physical, Epistemic, Subjective, and Quantum Probabilities	230
4.4.5	In Search of the Ultimate Interpretation.....	234
4.4.6	The Role of Metalanguage.....	236
4.4.7	Probabilities of Discrete-Valued and Continuous-Valued Attributes	237
4.5	Quantitative Representations of Uncertainty	239
4.5.1	Linear Uncertainty Model	240
4.5.2	Logarithmic Uncertainty Model	241
5	Stochastic Reasoning	243
5.1	Lifting Isis’ Veil	243
5.2	Reasoning in a Stochastic Setting	244
5.2.1	Basic Reasoning Modes.....	245
5.2.2	Transition to Stochastic Thinking	251
5.3	The Spatiotemporal Random Field Concept.....	257
5.3.1	The Possible Worlds Representation: Epicurus, Leibniz, and Voltaire.....	257
5.3.2	Causality–Randomness Interaction	258
5.4	Stochastic Characterization	260
5.4.1	The Holy Grail	260
5.4.2	Multiple Conceptual Layers	261
5.4.3	Robert Frost’s Moment of Choice, and the Case of Paradoxes	262

5.5	About Laws, Power Holders, and Rembrandt's Paintings	264
5.5.1	Deterministic Laws	265
5.5.2	Statistical Laws	265
5.5.3	Stochastic Laws	266
5.5.4	Comparative Summary	267
5.6	Constructing Multivariate PDF Models	268
5.6.1	Formal Construction: Copulas and Factoras	268
5.6.2	Substantive Construction	274
5.6.3	Drunkard's Search	277
5.7	Spatiotemporal Dependence and Woody Allen's Prose	278
5.7.1	Dependence in Terms of Stochastic Expectation	278
5.7.2	Dependence in Terms of Natural Laws	283
5.7.3	The Predictability Power of a Model	284
5.7.4	Information Theoretic and Copula Dependence Functions	285
5.7.5	Spatiotemporal Homostationarity	288
5.8	A Generalized View of S/TRF	289
5.8.1	Random Fields Based on Generalized Functions or Distributions	289
5.8.2	An Operational Treatment of Space-Time Heterogeneous Attributes	290
5.8.3	Spatiotemporal Dependence and Heterogeneity Parameters	292
5.9	Constructive Symbiosis and Its Problems	296
6	Stochastic Calculus	301
6.1	Merging Logic and Stochasticity	301
6.1.1	Reflections Along the Lakeshore	301
6.1.2	From Chrysippus to Frege	302
6.1.3	The Substantive Character of Stochastic Calculus	305
6.1.4	Deduction as a Component of Stochastic Reasoning	309
6.1.5	Stochastic Falsification Principle	312
6.1.6	Reasoning with Shadow Statements, and Esprit de Finesse	312
6.2	Probability Evolution: Conditionals as Quantified Adaptation	314
6.2.1	The Horse Before the Cart	314
6.2.2	Conditionals in a Stochastic Reasoning Milieu	315
6.2.3	Formulas of Stochastic Calculus	318
6.3	The Role of Specificatory Evidence in Probability	321
6.3.1	Reverend Bayes and His Critics	322
6.3.2	Good's Varieties of Bayesians and De Gaulle's Varieties of Cheese	326
6.3.3	Extra Bayesian Nulla Salus	328
6.3.4	Contextual Alternatives: Isocrates' Concern	329

6.3.5	Conditional Dependence Indicator	330
6.3.6	William James' Sea of Possibilities	331
6.4	Vincere Scis, Hannibal-Victoria Uti Nescis	332
6.4.1	Changing the Way One Thinks One Does What One Does	333
6.4.2	Waltz of Lost Dreams?	334
7	Operational Epibrainmatics	337
7.1	The Clouds of Dublin and the IPS Dualism	337
7.1.1	Theorizing and Correlating	337
7.1.2	IPS as Knowledge Synthesis.....	339
7.2	The Value of Things	340
7.2.1	The Boltzmann–Laplace Relationship.....	340
7.2.2	Technical Features of Information.....	343
7.2.3	Contextual Features of Information	344
7.2.4	It Is Not Where One Takes Things from, It Is Where One Takes Them to	345
7.2.5	Entropy in a Space–Time Continuum	347
7.2.6	What Herodotus Knew.....	349
7.3	Quantification of the Postulates: Fusing Form and Content.....	351
7.3.1	The Plurality Concept: Learn from the Future Before It Happens.....	351
7.3.2	Knowledge Is About Connecting Minds, Not Merely About Collecting Data	354
7.3.3	Teleologic Operator: The Machine and the Artist.....	359
7.3.4	Adaptation Operator: The Critical Roles of Content and Consistency.....	362
7.3.5	Synergetic Action of the Operators.....	368
7.4	Mathematical Space–Time Formulation of IPS	370
7.4.1	Equations on a Napkin.....	370
7.4.2	Eos and Relative KB Informativeness.....	372
7.4.3	Working Out the Equations.....	373
7.5	The Special Case of Bayesian Maximum Entropy	375
7.5.1	The BME Equations	375
7.5.2	In Situ Solution of the BME Equations	377
7.5.3	Generality of the Fundamental Equations	378
7.6	Space–Time Prediction: Tibet's Oracle and Other Stories.....	380
7.6.1	Superposition Property and the Cubist Movement	380
7.6.2	Distinctions from Mainstream Data-Driven Techniques... ..	381
7.6.3	How to Look and How to See	383
7.7	Problem–Solution Accuracy	385
7.7.1	The Geese of the Capitoline Hill and the Wise Confucius.....	385

- 7.7.2 Accuracy in Terms of Prediction Error..... 387
- 7.7.3 Solution Accuracy as a Doubt Generator..... 389
- 7.8 Space–Time Analysis in a Broader Context..... 390
 - 7.8.1 Space–Time Estimation via Regression, Kriging and Machine Learning 391
 - 7.8.2 Space–Time Estimation as Knowledge Synthesis..... 393
 - 7.8.3 Afflatus Divinus..... 395
- 8 On Model-Choice..... 397
 - 8.1 Living in Plato’s Cave 397
 - 8.1.1 Conditions of Model-Choice, the Blind Prophet, and Slavoj Zizek 397
 - 8.1.2 Explanation Versus Fitness 400
 - 8.2 Issues of Concern 401
 - 8.2.1 Nature of Candidate Models and Balzac’s
Wild Ass’s Skin 402
 - 8.2.2 Optimal Data Fitting 403
 - 8.2.3 From Occam’s Razor To Rovespiere’s Gilotine 405
 - 8.2.4 On Predictability 407
 - 8.3 Ideals of Model-Choice 408
 - 8.3.1 Contextual Appropriateness..... 409
 - 8.3.2 Quantitative Representations 410
 - 8.4 Bias and Hyperreality in Model-Choice..... 414
 - 8.4.1 Injustice as an Indicator of Lack of Civilization 415
 - 8.4.2 Jean Baudrillard’s Simulacrum 415
 - 8.4.3 Manus Manum Lavat 418
 - 8.4.4 Sir Laurence Olivier’s “Stardom,” and Bette Davis’
“Big way” 422
- 9 Implementation and Technology..... 427
 - 9.1 “Thinking About” Versus Merely “Searching for”
a Problem-Solution..... 427
 - 9.1.1 The Role of Software Codes: Duco Ergo Sum?..... 428
 - 9.1.2 The User–Software Relationship 430
 - 9.2 The Need for Creative Participation..... 431
 - 9.2.1 Ezra Pound and the Prince of Darkness 431
 - 9.2.2 Data Versus Interpretational Uncertainty, and Descartes’ Skull 432
 - 9.2.3 The Man and the Hammer 433
 - 9.2.4 George Bernard Shaw’s Apple and Scientific Software.... 434
 - 9.3 Yet Another Look at IPS 436
 - 9.3.1 Thoth’s Technology and Tammuz’s Critical Thinking..... 436
 - 9.3.2 Bella Gerant Alii, Tu, Felix Austria, Nube..... 437
 - 9.3.3 Other Aspects of Problem-Solving 438

9.4 Marketplace of Ideas, and Tales of Misapplied Statistics 442

 9.4.1 The “Let the Data Speak” Mindset and the PDD Doctrine 444

 9.4.2 Neglect of the Real..... 449

 9.4.3 The “John Treats – John Drinks” Approach..... 451

 9.4.4 Matters of Lifestyle 452

 9.4.5 The Papier-Mâché of PDD Analysis 453

9.5 Born an Original, Dying a Copy? 455

10 Epilogue 457

 10.1 Knowledge Pursued in Depth and Integrated in Breadth 457

 10.1.1 Not “That” but “That by” Which We Know 457

 10.1.2 To Find Out About Life, One Has to Model
 Life Itself 459

 10.1.3 La Divina Element of IPS 460

 10.2 The Ionian Tradition in a Time of Decadence 461

 10.2.1 Castoriadis’ Space for Thought 462

 10.2.2 Nietzsche’s Good Enemies 463

 10.2.3 A Phase of Decomposition 463

 10.3 The “Socrates or Galileo” Dilemma 464

 10.4 Like Travelers of the Legendary Khorasan Highway..... 465

 10.5 Waiting For The Master of Ceremonies..... 467

 10.6 A Matter of “Εὐ Ζήν” Rather than Merely “Ζήν” 470
