

Contents

Introduction	xv
1 A Portrait of John Locke as a Christian Virtuoso	1
Introduction	1
The Character of a Christian Virtuoso	3
The Origin of the Character and Its Idea	4
Locke: The Making of a Christian Virtuoso	9
Christian Virtuosity in Locke's Essay	15
2 Locke's Theology, 1694–1704	21
Introduction	21
Theological Stock-Taking: 'Adversaria Theologica'	22
The Reasonableness of Christianity	31
Interpreting St Paul	39
Late Theological Reflections	43
Summary and Conclusion	46
Appendix A	49
Appendix B	51
3 Locke's Proof of the Divine Authority of Scripture	53
Introduction: The Problem	53
The Origin of Locke's Proof of the Divine Authority of Scripture	58
Locke's Employment of the Proof	65
Conclusion	73
4 Locke's Christology as a Key to Understanding His Philosophy	75
Introduction	75
Locke's Christology	78
Natural Theology, Christology, and the Essay	88
Christology in Two Treatises and Epistola De Tolerantia	91
Conclusion	97
Appendix	100

5	Locke on St Paul, Messianic Secrecy, and the Consummation of Faith	103
	Introduction: Christian Virtuosity and the Locke's Thought	103
	Locke's Preface to St Paul	107
	The Problem of Messianic Secrecy	113
	St Paul and Consummate Faith	118
	Conclusion	124
6	Locke's 'Dubia circa Philosophiam Orientalem' and the Reception of Kabbala Denudata in England During the Seventeenth Century	127
	Introduction	127
	Occasion and Context	127
	The Adumbratio and Its Commentator	133
	Reception	142
	Text (MS Locke c. 27, fols. 75–7)	147
	[75 ^r] Dubia circa Philosophiam Orientalem	147
	Translation	153
	[75 ^r] Doubts about Oriental Philosophy	153
	Appendix	161
	Lexicon of the Syncatabasis 7 88	161
	Caballa 88	161
7	Reflections on Locke's Platonism	163
	Introduction	163
	Objections to 'Locke's Platonism'	164
	Locke's Encounters with Platonism	171
	Conclusion	177
8	Aspects of Stoicism in Locke's Philosophy	181
	Introduction	181
	Reason	184
	God and Nature	184
	Reason and the Origin and Growth of Knowledge	187
	The Foundations of Morality and the Law of Nature	189
	Reason Enlarged	199
	Reason Enlarged or Diminished?	204
9	Locke Against the Epicureans	207
	Introduction	207
	Locke's Proof of the Existence of God	208
	The Foundations of Epicurean Physics	208
	Preliminary Considerations	212

The Bare Argument.....	213
Presentation of the Argument.....	214
Locke's Divine Physics.....	226
Conclusion	230
10 Locke's Religious Thinking and His Politics	235
Introduction.....	235
Personal Identity and Free Agency	236
Political and Religious Motivations for Toleration.....	237
A Natural and a Supernatural Adam.....	242
Summary and Conclusion	245
11 Catharine Cockburn's Enlightenment	247
Introduction.....	247
A Moralist's Religion.....	250
Defender of Locke	253
Cockburn's Enlightenment Philosophy.....	260
Conclusion	263
Index.....	267

<http://www.springer.com/978-94-007-0273-8>

Christianity, Antiquity, and Enlightenment
Interpretations of Locke

Nuovo, V.

2011, XX, 276 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-94-007-0273-8