

Contents

Author biographies	vii
Abbreviations	ix
1 Introduction	1
Pathology and pathogenesis	1
Genetics	4
Epidemiology	5
References	6
2 Clinical features	7
Clinical manifestations	7
Course	7
Prognosis	12
References	13
3 Diagnosing multiple sclerosis	15
Investigations	15
Diagnostic criteria	19
Differential diagnosis	22
References	27
4 Treatment of acute relapses of multiple sclerosis	29
References	32
5 Disease-modifying therapy	35
Disease-modifying agents	35
Initiating, monitoring, and changing therapy in relapsing–remitting multiple sclerosis	44
Clinically isolated syndromes	47
Treatment of progressive multiple sclerosis	48
Treatment of fulminant multiple sclerosis	49
Multiple sclerosis treatment in children	49
Devic’s neuromyelitis optica	50

Emerging anti-inflammatory therapies	51
References	55
6 Symptom management	61
General points	61
Impaired mobility	61
Diplopia and oscillopsia	68
Vertigo	68
Bulbar dysfunction	69
Spasticity	69
Tremor	71
Bladder dysfunction	71
Bowel dysfunction	74
Sexual dysfunction	74
Cognitive impairment	75
Mood disorders	76
Fatigue	77
Positive sensory phenomena and pain	78
References	80
7 Medical management of patients with multiple sclerosis	83
Health maintenance	83
Immunizations	83
Sleep	84
Smoking	84
Reproductive health	84
Multidisciplinary care	85
References	85
Resources	87
Books	87
General information and best practices	87
Information on clinical trials	87
References	88

<http://www.springer.com/978-1-908517-49-4>

Handbook of Multiple Sclerosis

Cohen, J.A.; Rae-Grant, A.

2012, X, 88 p. 29 illus. in color., Softcover

ISBN: 978-1-908517-49-4