

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	Background	1
1.2	The Issues	2
1.3	International Trade and the Global Environment: An Integration.	3
1.4	Role of International Trade in Climate Change	7
2	The World Trade Organization and Climate Change	9
2.1	The WTO Charter	9
2.2	Environmental Trade Measures and the WTO	12
2.3	The WTO Jurisprudence	14
2.4	Subsidies for Climate-Friendly Trade	18
2.5	Aid for Trade and CCG	21
2.6	Doha Round Trade Negotiations	22
2.7	Moving Forward	23
2.8	Urgent WTO Charter Reforms	25
3	Environmental Goods and Services Negotiations: WTO	27
3.1	About Environmental Goods and Services	27
3.2	The Current Scope	29
3.3	The State of Play and Current Negotiations	30
3.4	What Can be Done Next?	32
4	Multilateral Environmental Agreements and Trade Policies	35
4.1	Multilateral Environmental Agreements with Trade Measures	35
4.2	The United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and Its Kyoto Protocol	37
4.3	Carbon Leakage, Border Carbon Taxes, and Post-Kyoto Framework	38

4.4	Border Carbon Adjustments Initiatives in the USA	41
4.5	Climate Friendly Technology Transfer and Trade	42
4.6	What Needs to be Done and How	43
5	Pragmatic Next Steps	45
	References	51

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-642-25251-8>

International Trade Policies and Climate Change
Governance

Rao, P.K.

2012, VIII, 53 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-642-25251-8