
Contents

Part I The Agile Manager

1 A Brief History of Management	3
Leaders and Managers	3
Leadership Among Apes	6
Feudalism, Empires, and the Origin of Hierarchies	9
Taylorism and Fordism	11
The Machine That Changed the World	12
The Rise of a New Species: Knowledge Workers	14
Taylor’s Fateful Heritage: Dilbert, the Office, Office Space, and Other Cubicle Nightmares	15
Summary	16
Things to Try	17
Recommended Readings	18
2 Lean and Agile in a Nutshell	19
Agile and Lean	19
The Japanese Revolution	20
The Five Principles of Lean	22
The 14 Principles of the Toyota Production System	26
Kanban Systems	30
The NUMMI Experiment: Lean Everywhere	33
Lean in a Nutshell	34
The Pre-Manifesto Years: Agile Genealogy	35
The Agile Manifesto	38
Principles of Agile Development	40
Again: From Values and Principles to Practices and Tools	43
Some Agile Practices and Tools	44
Agile in a Nutshell	47

Summary	49
Things to Try	50
Recommended Readings	52
3 The Agile Manager's Role	53
Managers Versus Self-Organization	53
Agile's Black Hole	54
Anyway, What Is a Manager?	56
Blame Management, Power Harvesting, Micromanagement, Command and Control, and Other Machiavellic Workplace Sports	57
The War Against Evil Management: Software Anarcho-Syndicalism	59
Yup, but.	60
Lean Management	61
Agile Management	63
The Agile Leader	64
Things to Try	65
Recommended Readings	66

Part II Agile Management

4 Motivating the Agile Workforce	69
Why Motivation Is Essential for Knowledge Workers: Medinilla's Principle of Motivation	69
The Evolution of Motivation	70
Motivation, Fear, Happiness	76
Money and Motivation	78
Self-Direction, Self-Organization	81
The Learning Enterprise	82
Honor, Vision, and the Meaning of Life	86
Connecting with Others	88
The Motivation of Software Developers	90
Some Motivational Anti-patterns	91
Summary	94
Things to Try	94
Recommended Readings	97
5 Self-Organization	99
Letting the Team Go	99
Delegation Is Not a Zero-Sum Game	100
Complex Environments	101

The Problem with Central Intelligence	102
Self-Organization Is Not Self-Management	104
The Self-Organizing Team	105
Managing Self-Organizing Teams	106
Intra-entrepreneurs and ROWE	108
Radical Self-Organization	110
Visibility and Reporting in an Agile Environment	112
Summary	115
Things to Try	116
Recommended Readings	117
6 Agile Structures: Scaling Agility	119
The Growing Start-Up Syndrome (Medinilla's Start-Up Syndrome?)	119
The Communication-Paths Problem: $n(n - 1)/2$	120
Programmers Are Not Bricks	122
Agile's Building Brick: The Cross-Functional Team	124
Managing Projects Is Not Managing the System	127
The Problem with Specialists	129
The Problem with Support Teams	131
Free Electrons	132
The Agile Enterprise Model	133
Summary	136
Things to Try	137
Recommended Readings	138
7 Managing Capacity and Workload	139
Managers and Workload	139
The Sales Lunch Syndrome	141
But You Promised!	142
The Two Good Moves and the Three Bad Moves in Pipeline Management	144
The Two Golden Principles in Portfolio Management	146
Sisyphus, the First Product Owner	148
Dealing with Bottlenecks	149
Metrics for Capacity	152
Summary	154
Things to Try	155
Recommended Readings	156
8 Agile Culture and Driving Change	157
First Who, Then What	157
What Corporate Culture Is and Is Not	158
Smell of WOWness: Zappos and Corporate Culture	161

Culture Starts with Us: The Level 4 Leap	163
Hiring and Firing According to Culture	165
Storytelling	167
Change 101	169
A Small Group of Brave Men	171
Taking Your Time	173
Change Patterns	175
Summary	175
Things to Try	176
Recommended Readings	178
9 Final Thoughts	179
Continuous Improvement and the J -Curve	179
Baseball Does Not Work	180
Agile Is Not a Place	180
What Message Are You Communicating?	181
Masakatsu Agatsu	181
Index	183

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-642-28908-8>

Agile Management
Leadership in an Agile Environment
Medinilla, Á.
2012, XII, 184 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-642-28908-8