| 1 | Introduction | 1 |
| 1.1 | Background | 1 |
| 1.2 | Mathematical technology in demand | 2 |
| 1.3 | Mathematical technology on offer | 4 |
| 1.4 | Economic activities involved in mathematical transfer | 4 |
| 2 | i-MATH Map of Demand for Mathematical Technology (TransMATH Demand Map) | 7 |
| 2.1 | Objectives and methodology | 7 |
| 2.1.1 | Objectives | 7 |
| 2.1.2 | Methodology: population, sample and questionnaire | 8 |
| 2.1.2.1 | Study population | 8 |
| 2.1.2.2 | Sample range | 9 |
| 2.1.2.3 | Questionnaire | 11 |
| 2.1.2.4 | Further information | 11 |
| 2.2 | Main results of the study | 12 |
| 2.2.1 | Characterisation of companies: by sector, company size and department | 12 |
| 2.2.1.1 | Distribution of firms by sector according to company size | 12 |
| 2.2.1.2 | Existence of company departments related to technological transfer | 13 |
| 2.2.1.3 | Location of R&D or new product development department | 15 |
| 2.2.2 | Knowledge and use of mathematical tools: CAD/CAE, statistics and operations research, and other mathematical techniques | 16 |
| 2.2.2.1 | Knowledge of mathematical techniques | 16 |
| 2.2.2.2 | Use of mathematical techniques: CAD, CAE, ST/OR and OMT | 18 |

| | | |
|----------|--|-----------|
| 2.2.2.3 | Main areas of application of CAD/CAE, ST/OR and OMT | 20 |
| 2.2.2.4 | Internal/external use of CAE, ST/OR and OMT . . . | 22 |
| 2.2.2.5 | Internal use of CAE and ST/OR: type of software used | 24 |
| 2.2.3 | Needs and human resources | 25 |
| 2.2.3.1 | CAD/CAE and ST/OR requirements | 25 |
| 2.2.3.2 | Human resources | 27 |
| 2.2.3.3 | Need for qualified mathematicians or mathematical services | 30 |
| 2.2.4 | Collaboration and outsourcing with universities and research centres | 31 |
| 2.2.4.1 | Outsourcing and collaboration with universities or research centres in the last five years | 32 |
| 2.2.4.2 | Interest in collaboration and outsourcing with universities or research centres | 37 |
| 2.2.4.3 | Interest in receiving a visit from mathematical technical staff | 38 |
| 2.3 | Conclusions | 40 |
| 2.3.1 | Use of mathematical techniques: CAD, CAE, ST/OR and OMT | 41 |
| 2.3.2 | Use of mathematical techniques: software | 42 |
| 2.3.3 | Requirements in mathematical tools | 42 |
| 2.3.4 | Human resources | 42 |
| 2.3.5 | Collaboration and outsourcing | 42 |
| 2.3.6 | Main conclusions | 43 |
| 3 | i-MATH Map of Supply of Mathematical Technology (TransMATH Supply Map) | 45 |
| 3.1 | Objectives and methodology | 45 |
| 3.1.1 | Objectives | 45 |
| 3.1.2 | Analysis of research groups | 46 |
| 3.1.2.1 | Characterisation of research groups: university or research centre | 47 |
| 3.1.2.2 | Characterisation of research groups: Spanish regions | 47 |
| 3.1.2.3 | Characterisation of research groups: staff distribution | 49 |
| 3.1.2.4 | Characterisation of research groups: main MSC research areas | 49 |
| 3.2 | Overview of research groups | 51 |
| 3.3 | Mathematical techniques and MSC classification | 77 |
| 3.3.1 | MSC classification | 85 |
