

Contents

1 Localizing Transitional Justice: Civil Society Practices and Initiatives in the Balkans.....	1
Zala Volčič and Olivera Simić

Part I Initiatives Within the Nation States

2 Civil Society and Post-communist Transitional Justice in Romania.....	17
Lavinia Stan
3 Dealing with the Past in Post-war Croatia: Perceptions, Problems, and Perspectives .....	33
Tamara Banjeglav
4 The Failure of Macedonian Post-communist Transitional Justice: Lustration, Between Cleansing and Parody .....	51
Despina Angelovska
5 How Activists See Civil Society and the Political Elite in Bosnia: Relevance to Prospects of Transitional Justice.....	69
Eunice Castro Seixas
6 The “Transitional Citizen”: Civil Society, Political Agency and Hopes for Transitional Justice in Bosnia–Herzegovina .....	87
Briony Jones, Alex Jeffrey, and Michaelina Jakala
7 Transitional Justice in Albania: Historical Burden, Weak Civil Society, and Conflicting Interests .....	105
Arolda Elbasani and Artur Lipinski
8 Truth in the Shadow of Justice .....	123
Jamie Rowen

Part II Transnational Civil Society Practices

9	Structured Encounters in Post-conflict/Post-Yugoslav Days: Visiting Belgrade and Prishtina.....	143
	Orli Fridman
10	What About the Women? Transitional Justice and Gender in Bosnia and Herzegovina and Northern Ireland.....	163
	Michael Potter and Hedley Abernethy
11	‘Pillar of Shame’: Civil Society, UN Accountability and Genocide in Srebrenica .....	181
	Olivera Simić
12	Afraid to Cry Wolf: Human Rights Activists’ Struggle of Transnational Accountability Efforts in the Balkans.....	201
	Arnaud Kurze and Iva Vukusic
13	From International Courts to Grassroots Organizing: Obstacles to Transitional Justice in the Balkans.....	217
	Jill A. Irvine and Patrice C. McMahon
	Index.....	239

Transitional Justice and Civil Society in the Balkans

Simić; Volcic, Z. (Eds.)

2013, XVI, 244 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-1-4614-5421-2