

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	Gender-based Violence and Depression: Women's Voices	1
	Central Concepts in This Book	2
	The Women Researchers and Participants in This Book	6
	References	7
2	An Introductory Visit to a Women's Journaling Group	9
	A Women's Journaling Group	9
	Conclusion	11
3	A Conceptual and Contextual Background for Gender-based Violence and Depression in Women	13
	Conceptual and Contextual Background: Gender-based Violence Against Women	13
	Prevalence and Impacts of Gender-based Violence Against Women	15
	Conceptual and Contextual Background: Why is Gender Important?	15
	Conceptual and Contextual Background: Human Rights and Public Health Frameworks	16
	Conceptual and Contextual Background: Critical Feminist Theoretical Understandings and Intersectionality	18
	Conceptual and Contextual Background: Links Between Violence Against Women and Impacts on Women's Mental Health	19
	Conclusion	20
	References	20
4	Gender-based Violence Against Women and Human Rights	23
	Definitions and Behaviours that Constitute Gender-based Violence Against Women	24
	The Incidence and Impacts of Gender-based Violence Against Women	25

Contributing Factors to Gender-based Violence Against Women	27
Conclusion	29
References	29
5 Depression in Women	33
Depression in Women	33
The Nature and Incidence of Depression in Women.	34
How Might We Understand Depression in Women and Women's Experiences of Depression?.	34
Biological and Biomedical Explanations of Depression in Women.	35
Psychological and Cognitive Explanations	36
Relational and Psychosocial Stressor Explanations.	36
A Feminist Social Constructionist Understanding of Depression in Women.	37
Critical Feminist Theoretical Perspectives and Explanations About Depression in Women.	38
The Notion of Self in Understanding Women's Experiences of Depression	39
Women and Recovery from Depression: Ideas About Recovery	41
Conclusion	42
References	43
6 Feminist Group Work, Consciousness-Raising and Resistance . . .	45
Practice Theory and Knowledge: A Critical Feminist Approach to Group Development and Group Structure	45
Consciousness-Raising	47
Resistance in Women's Journaling.	49
Conclusion	52
References	52
7 Women and Journaling	55
Journaling as a Therapeutic Intervention.	55
Women and Journals	56
Research into Journaling as a Therapeutic Intervention.	57
The Use of Narratives in Journaling and Therapeutic Writing	58
Journaling Techniques, Materials and Prompts	59
Women's Use of Multiple and New Journaling Techniques	62
Journaling Materials.	63
Conclusion	63
References	64

8	The Women's Journaling Group Program Model	65
	The Underpinning Principles of the Women's Journaling Group Program Model	65
	Journaling as a Process and as a Form of Action.	65
	The Women's Journaling Group Program Model	66
	The Two Overarching Frameworks	66
	The Four Narratives Within the Frameworks.	68
	The Threads Within the Narratives.	68
	How Might the Women's Journaling Group Program Model?	68
	Incorporating the Women's Journaling Group Model into Practice. . .	71
	Framework Two: Proactive Resistance, Rehearsal, Agency and Action	76
	Conclusion	80
9	An Example Outline of a Women's Journaling Group Program	81
	Women's Journaling Group.	81
	Journaling 1	82
	Journaling 2	83
	Journaling 3	84
10	Practice Guidelines for Facilitating a Women's Journaling Group Programme	87
	Practice Guideline One: Broad Understandings of Journaling are Needed	87
	Practice Guideline Two: The Range of Journaling Activities Should be Varied.	88
	Practice Guideline Three: Re-reading and Reflecting on Journaling Content can be Helpful for Women	88
	Practice Guideline Four: Women's Experience and Expression of Anger is Beneficial	89
	Practice Guideline Five: Women's Anger, Change and Decision Making Capacity may be Connected	89
	Practice Guideline Six: A Future Focus is Important for Women's Recovery	90
	Practice Guideline Seven: Reclamation of a Sense of Self is an Ongoing Process	90
	Practice Guideline Eight: The Role of 'Hope' in Recovery and in Women's Journaling Groups is Influential.	90
	Practice Guideline Nine: Resistance is a Method and Activity for Change	91
	Practice Guideline Ten: Depression is a Shared Yet Unique Experience for Women.	91

Practice Guideline Eleven: Activities to Assist Women to Operationalise Their Decisions for Change are Essential.	92
Practice Guideline Twelve: Practitioners Need to Have Solid Knowledge About Working with Critical Feminist and Intersectional Theories and Concepts	92
Practice Guideline Thirteen: Journaling can be Employed in a Preventative Manner	93
Practice Guideline Fourteen: Privacy and Confidentiality is Crucial in Women's Journaling Groups.	93
Practice Guideline Fifteen: Preparatory and Beginning Phases of Women's Journaling Groups Provide Structure for Women.	94
Practice Guideline Sixteen: Assessment of Women's Readiness to Participate in a Journaling Group is Necessary	95
Practice Guideline Seventeen: Building Trust Between Group Members is Critical	95
Practice Guideline Eighteen: Women's Groups Proceed Through Developmental Stages that are Specific to Each Women's Group.	96
Practice Guideline Nineteen: Women's Journaling Groups can be Conducted Over a Day or During a Number of Weeks	96
Practice Guideline Twenty: Undertake Evaluations of Women's Journaling Groups	97
References	97
11 Postscript	99
Index	101

<http://www.springer.com/978-1-4614-7531-6>

Gender-based Violence and Depression in Women

A Feminist Group Work Response

Western, D.

2013, VIII, 102 p. 3 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-1-4614-7531-6