3.5	Lognormal Law and Income Distribution	25

3.6	Measures of Poverty	25
3.6.1	Axioms for Poverty Indexes	25
3.6.2	Poverty Indexes	26
3.7	Complementarity between Inequality and Poverty Indexes	27

Part II Welfare and Efficiency

4	Inequality, Efficiency, and the Production Sphere	31
4.1	Introduction	31
4.2	A Preliminary View on Social Production	33
4.3	Social Production and Optimal Income Distribution	35
4.4	Efficiency and Equity	37
4.5	Solving the Second Best Problem	38
5	Efficiency and Welfare	41
5.1	Preliminary	41
5.2	Combining Welfare and Efficiency	42
5.3	Equity Considered	43
5.4	Individual Consumptions and Social Welfare	46
6	Information Incentives and Performance	49
6.1	On the Social Welfare Function	49
6.2	On Social Production	50
6.3	On Taxation and Transfers	50

Part III Summary Example and Numerical Simulations

7	A Summary Example	55
7.1	Choice of Functions	55
7.2	Maximum Output Distribution	57
7.3	Maximizing Social Welfare	58
7.4	Equity Included	60
7.5	Dynamics of Maximum Social Output	63
7.6	Maximizing Social Welfare	65
7.7	Implementing Optimal Choices	67
7.8	Income Inequality Considered	68
7.9	Poverty Considered	68
8	Implementing the Example: One Time Period	69
8.1	Initial Income Distribution	69
8.2	First Simulation: $\alpha = 1.25$	71
8.2.1	Generating Pareto Distribution	71
8.2.2	Initial Income Distribution and Social Income	72
8.2.3	Inequality Considered	74
8.2.4	Poverty Considered	76
8.2.5	Maximizing Social Production	76

8.2.6	Maximizing Social Welfare Under Equity	78
8.2.7	Inequality Reconsidered	80
8.2.8	Poverty Reconsidered	81
8.3	Second Simulation: $\alpha = 1.5$	82
8.3.1	Generating Pareto Distribution	82
8.3.2	Initial Income Distribution and Social Potential Income	83
8.3.3	Inequality Considered	85
8.3.4	Poverty Considered	86
8.3.5	Maximizing Social Production	86
8.3.6	Maximizing Social Welfare Under Equity	88
8.3.7	Inequality Reconsidered	90
8.3.8	Poverty Reconsidered	91
8.4	Third Simulation: $\alpha = 1.75$	91
8.4.1	Generating Pareto Distribution	91
8.4.2	Total Initial Income and Social Production Output	92
8.4.3	Inequality Considered	93
8.4.4	Poverty Considered	94
8.4.5	Maximizing Social Production	94
8.4.6	Maximizing Social Welfare Under Equity	96
8.4.7	Inequality Reconsidered	98
8.4.8	Poverty Reconsidered	99
8.5	Final Observations	100
9	Dynamics: Many Time Periods	101
9.1	Preliminary	101
9.2	Generating Pareto Distribution	102
9.3	Consumption Considered	103
9.4	Period $t = 1$	103
9.4.1	Social Production	103
9.4.2	Inequality Considered	106
9.4.3	Poverty Considered	108
9.4.4	Maximizing Social Production	108
9.4.5	Maximizing Social Welfare Under Equity	111
9.4.6	Inequality Reconsidered	114
9.4.7	Poverty Reconsidered	115
9.5	Transition: From $t = 1$ to $t = 2$	115
9.6	Period $t = 3$	119
9.6.1	Inequality and Poverty	123
9.7	Towards the Stationary State: $t = 4$	124
10	Final Remarks	127
10.1	General Remarks	127
10.2	Public and Private Goods	128
