

Contents

1	Introduction: Citizenship as Cultural Flow—Shifting Paradigms, Hybridization, or Plus ça Change?	1
	Subrata K. Mitra
 Section I Reimagining the Liberal Canon
2	From T.H. Marshall to Jawaharlal Nehru: Citizenship as Vision and Strategy	25
	Jivanta Schoettli
3	Reluctant and Excluded Citizens, Differentiated and Multilevel Citizenship: Where the Indian and the European Discourse on Citizenship Meet	45
	Clemens Spiess
4	Turning Aliens Into Citizens: A “Toolkit” for a Trans-Disciplinary Policy Analysis	65
	Subrata K. Mitra
 Section II Citizenship in National and Transnational Contexts: The European Union, Sri Lanka, and India
5	European Citizenship: A Concept of Interrelatedness and Conditionality	87
	Frank R. Pfetsch
6	Who Is a Citizen?’ A Multidimensional Question	107
	James Manor
7	Citizenship in India: Evolution, Involution, and Rational Construction	121
	Subrata K. Mitra

Section III Flow Differentiated: Belief, Education, Class, Tribe, and Space
8 The Effects of Globalisation on Citizenship in India: The Changing Role of Education	151
Marie Lall
9 Transnational Religious Organisation and Flexible Citizenship in Britain and India	167
John Zavos
10 Globalisation, Economic Citizenship, and India's Inclusive Developmentalism	187
Barbara Harriss-White, Aseem Prakash, and Deepak Mishra
11 Inheritance of "Kingly Citizenship": Tribals at Crossroads in the Modern State of Orissa	211
Prasanna K. Nayak
12 Building Citizenship: The Agency of Public Buildings and Urban Planning in the Making of the Indian Citizen	229
Julia A.B. Hegewald
Notes on Contributors	265
Bibliography	267
Index	281

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-642-34567-8>

Citizenship as Cultural Flow

Structure, Agency and Power

Mitra, S.K. (Ed.)

2013, XVI, 283 p. 23 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-642-34567-8