

Contents

1	Background and goals of the book	1
	Annalisa Tunisini and Riccardo Resciniti
1.1	In medio stat virtus : the growing interest in the mid-sized company	1
1.2	The research and its goals	5
	References	9
2	Mid-sized companies according to Mediobanca-Unioncamere	13
	Gabriele Barbaresco and Emanuela Salerno
2.1	Introduction	13
2.2	Origins of medium-sized enterprises	14
2.3	The Mediobanca-Unioncamere report on medium-sized Italian industrial businesses	17
2.4	Distribution of Italian medium-sized enterprises	20
2.5	Characteristics and trends of medium-sized Italian industrial companies	27
2.6	Concluding comments.	36
	References	38
3	A quantitative analysis of the companies under examination	41
	Gabriele Barbaresco and Nadia Portioli
3.1	Introduction	41
3.2	Financial profile of the companies under examination	42
3.3	Panel companies versus Italian MSEs	56
3.4	Panel companies versus benchmark firms	70
3.5	Concluding comments.	71
	References	73

4	Virtuous business models for international competitiveness	75
	Riccardo Resciniti and Annalisa Tunisini
4.1	Introduction.	75
4.2	The governance issues and trajectories of growth	76
4.2.1	Once upon a time the entrepreneur	77
4.2.2	The continuous strain to grow	78
4.2.3	Sustainable growth.	80
4.2.4	The stability of the governance	83
4.2.5	The positive contamination of entrepreneurial and managerial elements	84
4.3	The vital network of inter-organizational relationships	85
4.3.1	The mid-sized company and its market network between stability and variability	86
4.3.2	The strategic value of the mid-sized company's relationship base	89
4.3.3	The mobilization of business relationships between local and global.	92
4.3.4	The implementation of a management approach to business relationships.	95
4.4	The dynamic focus strategies	97
4.4.1	Differentiation and strategic niches.	98
4.4.2	Refocus strategies	100
4.4.3	Multi focus strategies.	101
4.5	The new value chain of mid-sized Italian companies.	102
4.5.1	Innovation orientation	103
4.5.2	Product customization	108
4.5.3	Market strength	110
4.6	Competing in international markets	114
4.6.1	Internationalization as a strategic "must"	116
4.6.2	Global niches and emerging countries.	116
4.6.3	The different entry modes	118
4.6.4	Four internationalization orientations	119
4.7	The mid-sized company and the new global economic context	125
4.8	Conclusions: development directions	128
4.8.1	Pay attention to the costs and to the financial structure.	129
4.8.2	Developing internationalization.	129
4.8.3	Generating innovation	130
4.8.4	Diversifying risks by multi-focusing, not by diversifying as a conglomerate	130
4.8.5	Re-design the marketing	131
4.8.6	Consolidate the value networks.	131
4.8.7	Give continuity to governance in the synergic convergence of management and entrepreneurship	132
4.8.8	Subordinate growth to sustainability	133
	References	133

5	Implications for managerial and industrial policy	137
	Fulvio Coltorti and Riccardo Varaldo
5.1	Medium-sized enterprises as system integrators.	137
5.2	Industrial policy	139
5.3	Recipes for the future	140
	References	146
	Appendix 1 – Strategies and policies to support the competitiveness of German Mittelstand companies	147
	Michael Holz
	Appendix 2 – Successful paths of Italian mid-sized firms.	169
	Michela Matarazzo

Mid-sized Manufacturing Companies: The New Driver of Italian Competitiveness

Coltorti, F.; Resciniti, R.; Tunisini, A.; Varaldo, R. (Eds.)

2013, XIII, 191 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-88-470-2588-2