

Contents

1	What Is Known About Doping and What Can This Study Add to It?	1
1.1	Literature Review	2
1.1.1	The Use of Doping Products: Trends and Prevalence	2
1.1.2	A Brief History of Doping Products and Anti-doping Tests	5
1.1.3	The Harms of Doping Products	10
1.1.4	The Supply of Doping Products: A “New” Topic for Inquiry	11
1.1.5	Literature Review Implications	12
1.2	International Policy Context	13
1.2.1	The Three Pillars of Anti-doping Policies	13
1.2.2	An Ongoing Shift from the First to the Third Pillar?	16
1.3	Conceptual Framework: A Semi-illegal Market	18
2	Doping Products and Their Demand	21
2.1	Doping Substances and Methods Available in Italy	22
2.1.1	Doping Doses	22
2.1.2	NAS Seizures	24
2.1.3	Harmful Consequences of Doping Products	26
2.2	Italy’s Sportsmen and Sportswomen and the Groups at Risk of Doping	28
2.2.1	Members of Sports Federations, Associated Disciplines, and Enti di Promozione Sportiva	29
2.2.2	Elite Athletes	31
2.2.3	Recreational Athletes	34
2.2.4	Body-Builders	35
2.3	The Results of Anti-doping Tests	36
2.3.1	CONI’s Tests of Elite Athletes	36
2.3.2	CVD’s Tests of Recreational Athletes	38

2.4	Estimates of the Users of Doping Products	42
2.4.1	IPSAD Data on the Use of Steroids in the Adult Population	42
2.4.2	Estimates of Doping Athletes.....	43
2.4.3	Estimates of Doping Body-Builders	46
2.4.4	Doping Use in the Rest of the Population.....	47
2.4.5	Concluding Estimates.....	49
2.5	A Preliminary Estimate of the Size of the Market.....	50
3	The (Illegal) Suppliers of Doping Products	59
3.1	Key Sociodemographic Characteristics	60
3.1.1	Gender	60
3.1.2	Nationality.....	61
3.1.3	Criminal Records	62
3.1.4	Profession.....	63
3.2	A Typology	64
3.2.1	Gym Managers and Owners and Body-Building Instructors.....	66
3.2.2	Managers of Dietary Supplement Shops.....	68
3.2.3	Pharmacists	68
3.2.4	Physicians.....	69
3.2.5	Hospital, Health Clinic, and Nursing Home Employees.....	73
3.2.6	Employees and Sales Representatives of (Para-) pharmaceutical Companies	74
3.2.7	Staff Members of Sports Teams	75
3.2.8	Sports Federation Officials.....	77
3.2.9	Veterinary Physicians, Breeders, and Drivers	79
3.2.10	Athletes	80
3.2.11	Body-Builders	80
3.2.12	Other Illegal Suppliers	81
3.3	The Illegal Suppliers' Motives.....	82
4	Distribution Chains and Market Relationships	85
4.1	Sources, Distributions Levels, and Connections Between the Legal and Illegal Segments of the Market	86
4.1.1	Doping Methods.....	86
4.1.2	Substances Manufactured for Doping Purposes	87
4.1.3	Substances Manufactured for Legitimate Purposes	91
4.1.4	Multiple, Variable, and Partially Overlapping Distribution Chains	95
4.2	How Best to Conceptualize the Relationships Among the Suppliers?.....	96
4.2.1	White-Collar Crime.....	98
4.2.2	Illicit Enterprise.....	99
4.3	The Suppliers' Modus Operandi.....	101
4.4	Changes over Time	104

5	The Role of Sports Bodies and Organized Crime	107
5.1	Sports Body Officials as Key Providers of Protection	108
5.1.1	Conconi and His Protectors	109
5.1.2	Other Cases of Complicity in the 1980s and 1990s	113
5.1.3	The Tolerance of National Sports Bodies Since the Turn of the Century	116
5.1.4	The Parallels Between Doping in Elite Sports and Insider Trading	119
5.2	What is the Role of Underworld and Organized Crime in the Market?	124
5.2.1	The Role of Italian Mafia Organizations	124
5.2.2	Are the Enterprises and Networks of Suppliers a Form of Organized Crime?	126
5.2.3	Opening Up the Perspective: From Italy to the Rest for the World	127
6	Revenues and Profits	131
6.1	The Retail Price of Doping Substances	132
6.2	The Potential Market Value of the Substances Seized	137
6.2.1	The Doping Substances Seized by Law Enforcement Agencies Other than NAS	137
6.2.2	The Total Amount of Doping Substances Seized in Italy and Their Potential Market Value	139
6.3	A Preliminary Estimate of the Financial Size of the Market	141
6.4	Illegal Suppliers' Revenues and Profits	145
6.4.1	Producers' Revenues and Profits	145
6.4.2	Traders' Revenues and Profits	146
6.4.3	Legal or Illegal Revenues?	150
7	Anti-doping Law Enforcement: Legislation, Actors, Outcomes, and the Challenges Ahead	151
7.1	The Criminal Law Provisions of Italian Anti-doping Legislation	152
7.1.1	The Early Provisions	152
7.1.2	Act 376 of December 2000	155
7.1.3	The Applicable Offenses Foreseen by the Criminal Code	160
7.2	Public and Criminal Law Institutions Involved in Anti-doping	160
7.2.1	Commission for the Vigilance and Control on Doping and the Protection of Health in Sports Activities (CVD) and the Other Public Law Bodies	161
7.2.2	Carabinieri Command for Health Protection (NAS)	166
7.2.3	Other Police Agencies	170
7.2.4	Prosecutor's Offices and Courts: Independence	171
7.2.5	Prosecutor's Offices and Courts: ... and Poor Performance	177

7.3	Offenses, Suspects, Defendants, and Verdicts	179
7.3.1	Offenses and Suspects Reported by NAS	179
7.3.2	Proceedings Initiated and Persons Charged	181
7.3.3	Court Verdicts.....	184
7.4	The Challenges of Anti-doping Law Enforcement	187
7.4.1	The Shortcomings of Act 376/2000	187
7.4.2	Prosecutors' and Judges' Insufficient Knowledge of Doping and Anti-doping	189
7.4.3	The Limited Cooperation between Sports Bodies and Law Enforcement Agencies	191
7.4.4	CVD's Deficient Coordination of Italy's Anti-doping Policy	191
7.4.5	The Challenges of International Police and Judicial Cooperation.....	192
8	Synthesis of Findings and Lessons for Policy-Making	195
8.1	Findings on Italy's Market for Doping Products and Anti-doping Policy	197
8.1.1	Doping Products and Their Harms.....	197
8.1.2	Demand	198
8.1.3	Suppliers.....	200
8.1.4	Distribution Chains and Market Relationships	201
8.1.5	The Role of National Sports Bodies and of Organized Crime	202
8.1.6	Revenues and Profits	203
8.1.7	Anti-doping Law Enforcement: Legislation and Actors	204
8.1.8	Anti-doping Law Enforcement: Outcomes and Challenges	205
8.2	Generic Conclusions and Lessons for Policy-Making	206
8.2.1	Doping Products and Their Demand.....	207
8.2.2	Supply	212
8.2.3	Policy.....	220
8.2.4	General	225
8.3	Concluding Remarks: WADA at a Crossroad.....	229
Appendix A	231
Appendix B	235
References	241
Index	269

The Sports Doping Market
Understanding Supply and Demand, and the Challenges of Their Control

Paoli, L.; Donati, A.

2014, XXIX, 275 p. 2 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-1-4614-8240-6