

Contents

Part I Theoretical Overview and Conceptualizations

1	Introduction	3
2	Emotion Regulation: Definition and Relevance for Mental Health	5
2.1	Defining Important Concepts.....	5
2.2	Emotion Regulation Deficits and Mental Disorders	6
	References.....	11
3	The Adaptive Coping with Emotions Model (ACE Model)	19
3.1	Search for a Model of Adaptive Emotion Regulation.....	19
3.2	Description of the Adaptive Coping with Emotions Model (ACE Model)	19
3.3	Empirical Evidence for the Adaptive Coping with Emotions Model (ACE Model).....	26
	References.....	27
4	How Do Emotion Regulation Deficits Result in Mental Health Problems?	31
4.1	Likely Pathways by Which Emotion Regulation Deficits Lead to Mental Disorders.....	31
4.2	ART Developmental Model of Emotion Regulation Deficits.....	32
4.2.1	Early Stage Vulnerabilities: The Influence of Genetics	32
4.2.2	Early Environmental Influences.....	34
4.2.3	Deficits in Parental Coaching and Modeling of Emotion Regulation	35
4.2.4	Avoidance.....	38

- 4.2.5 Exposure to Events Creating Incongruity: An Important Trigger Mechanism 40
- 4.2.6 Consequences of Motivation-Perception Discrepancy (MPD) 40
- References..... 43
- 5 Overview of Current Treatments that Enhance Emotion Regulation Skills..... 47
- References..... 50
- 6 Development of the “Affect Regulation Training” (ART) Program 53
- 6.1 From Science to Practice: Overview of the ART Skills..... 53
- 6.2 “Chaining” ART Skills Together to Create the ART Sequence 60
- 6.3 Practice and Repetition 61
- References..... 62
- 7 Guidelines for Effective Delivery of ART 67
- 7.1 Activating the Approach Orientation 67
- 7.2 Strengthening the Therapeutic Alliance..... 70
- 7.3 Creating Goals that Result in Effective Self-Management 71
- 7.4 Recommended Education and Training for Therapists..... 72
- References..... 74

Part II Delivery of Affect Regulation Training (ART)

- 8 Training Format and Logistics 79
- 8.1 Intended Audience for ART 79
- 8.2 Clarifying the Format..... 80
- 8.3 Teaching Style..... 81
- 8.4 Schedule for Training Sessions 81
- 8.5 Size of Training Classes and the Co-therapist 83
- 8.6 Additional Training Materials 83
- 9 ART Module One: Introduction and Psychoeducation 85
- 9.1 Introducing ART to the Participants 85
- 9.2 Psychoeducation: Theoretical and Empirical Background of the ART Skills 93
- References..... 101
- 10 ART Module Two: Muscle and Breathing Relaxation 103
- 10.1 Vicious Cycles #1 and #2: Amygdala Activation and Muscle Tension/Rapid Breathing 103
- 10.2 ART Skills #1 and #2: Muscle and Breathing Relaxation 105
- 10.3 ART Sequence with ART Skills #1 and #2: Muscle and Breathing Relaxation..... 108
- Reference 111

- 11 Module Three: Psychoeducation Part II (The Importance of Regular Practice) 113
 - Reference 121
- 12 Module Four: Nonjudgmental Awareness 123
 - 12.1 Vicious Cycle #3: Amygdala Activation and Negative Thinking 123
 - 12.2 ART Skill #3: Nonjudgmental Awareness..... 125
 - 12.3 ART Sequence with ART Skills #1–3 129
 - References 135
- 13 Module Five: Acceptance and Tolerance 137
 - 13.1 Vicious Cycle #4: Amygdala Activation and Avoidance Reactions 137
 - 13.2 ART Skill #4: Acceptance and Tolerance of Emotions 138
 - 13.3 ART Sequence with ART Skills #1–4 148
 - References 152
- 14 Module Six: Compassionate Self-Support 153
 - 14.1 Vicious Cycle #5: Amygdala Activation and Self-Criticism/Negative Secondary Emotions..... 153
 - 14.2 ART Skill #5: Compassionate Self-Support 154
 - 14.3 ART Sequence with ART Skills #1–5 168
 - Reference 171
- 15 Module Seven: Analyzing Emotions..... 173
 - 15.1 Vicious Cycle #6: Amygdala Activation and Difficulty Analyzing Emotions 173
 - 15.2 ART Skill #6: Analyzing Emotions..... 174
 - 15.3 ART Sequence with ART Skills #1–6 180
 - References 183
- 16 Module Eight: Modifying Emotions..... 185
 - 16.1 Vicious Cycle #7: Amygdala Activation and Difficulty Modifying Emotions..... 185
 - 16.2 ART Skill #7: Modifying Emotions 186
 - 16.3 ART Sequence with ART Skills #1–7 193
 - Reference 196
- 17 Module Nine: Additional Practice Coping with Particularly Important Affective States 197
 - 17.1 Recognizing and Understanding Particularly Important Affective States..... 197
 - 17.2 Modifying Affective States that Are Particularly Important for Mental Health 199
 - 17.3 Closing Words for Participants 201

Part III Evaluation and Future Prospects

18 Program Evaluation, Efficacy Findings, and Future Directions	205
18.1 Feedback from Participants and ART Therapists.....	205
18.2 Efficacy Findings	207
18.3 Limitations of the Research Assessing the Efficacy of ART.....	208
References.....	209
19 Limitations and Future Directions of the ART Program	211
19.1 Transdiagnostic Nature of ART	211
19.2 Utilizing Translational Research Findings to Explain Emotion Regulation Difficulties.....	212
19.3 Participant Engagement in Skill-Building Exercises	212
20 Closing Summary	215
Appendices	217
Index	247

<http://www.springer.com/978-1-4939-1021-2>

Affect Regulation Training

A Practitioners' Manual

Berking, M.; Whitley, B.

2014, X, 250 p. 124 illus., 94 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-1-4939-1021-2