

Contents

1	Review, Motivation, and Theory	1
1.1	A Brief History of Sustainable Development	1
1.2	The State of the Earth	3
1.3	The State of Sustainable Development	4
1.4	An Overview of the Bubble Theory	6
1.5	Onerization	8
2	The First Layer of the Bubble Theory: The Symbiotic Duo	11
2.1	The Symbiotic Duo and Its Desires	11
2.2	Misaligned Objectives Between a Species and Its Members	13
2.3	Misaligned Objectives Across Members of a Species	14
2.4	The Principle of Self-Insufficiency in an Interrelated Society	15
2.5	The Principle of Childlessness	17
2.6	The Law of Miniminds	18
3	The Second Layer of the Bubble Theory: Enlightened Needs (ENs)	21
3.1	Definition and Characteristics	21
3.2	From Fringe to Mainstream	23
3.3	Self-Generated Solutions	24
3.4	Solutions from the Private Sector	26
3.5	Solutions from the Public Sector	28
4	The Third Layer of the Bubble Theory: Human Development Principles (HDPs)	31
4.1	Definition and Characteristics	31
4.2	Pursue of Immortality and Optimization-Based HDPs	33
4.3	Heuristics-Based HDPs	34
4.4	Fair Development (FD)	35
4.5	Operationalizing Fair Development	37
4.6	Contrasting Fair Development with Sustainable Development	40
4.7	The Framework of EN and FD	44

5	The Role of the Private Sector	45
5.1	The Duty of the Private Sector	45
5.2	Two Sources of Demand (ENs and FD)	47
5.3	Three Types of Customers	49
5.4	Bubble Auditing	50
5.5	Developing Solutions to Capture Opportunities	51
5.6	Organizational Structure	53
6	The Role of the Public Sector	55
6.1	The Duty of the Public Sector	55
6.2	Learn	57
6.3	Listen	58
6.4	Lead	59
	Epilogue	61
	References	63

The Bubble Theory

Towards a Framework of Enlightened Needs and Fair
Development

Ding, M.

2014, VIII, 63 p. 5 illus. in color., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-00920-9