

Contents

Part I Maps and Technology

When History Meets Geography: The Visualising Urban Geographies Project	3
Richard Rodger

Thoughts on a Web Based Co-productive Spatio-Temporal Information System	17
Leif Scheuermann

Peopling the Past: Interpreting Models for Pedestrian Movement in Ancient Civic-Ceremonial Centres	25
Shawn G. Morton, Meaghan M. Peuramaki-Brown, Peter C. Dawson and Jeffrey D. Seibert

Mapping Socio-Spatial Relations in the Urban Built Environment Through Time: Describing the Socio-Spatial Significance of Inhabiting Urban Form	45
Benjamin N. Vis

Part II Mapping Cities: Lyon and Barcelona as Case Studies

Lyons, the Spatial Analysis of a City in the 17th and 18th Centuries. Locating and Crossing Data in a GIS Built from Written Sources	97
Bernard Gauthiez and Olivier Zeller

Mapping Long-Term Urban Space Structures: Barcelona as a Case Study	119
Manel Guàrdia Bassols and Sergi Garriga

Part III Mapping Humanities

Writing Spatial Relations and Dynamics: Movements in Urban Space (Barcelona, 16th–19th Century)	139
Susanne Rau
Rethinking Social Relations: Towards a Different Phenomenology of Places	157
Stephen Read
The Cartographic Representation and Analysis of (Slovene) Writer-Careers: Methodology and First Results of the Slovene Project	177
Urška Perenič
Elements of Historical Knowledge About Urban Spaces: Reflections on the Requirements for a Dynamic Map	195
Ekkehard Schönherr
Commentary	211
Wolfgang Spickermann

Mapping Spatial Relations, Their Perceptions and Dynamics

The City Today and in the Past

Rau, S.; Schönherr, E. (Eds.)

2014, XII, 214 p. 65 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-00992-6