

Contents

1	Introduction	1
	Reference	3
2	What Went Wrong with the Euro?	5
	References	15
3	Public Debt: Introductory Remarks	17
	References	19
4	Was the Eurozone an Acceptable Currency Union?	21
5	Preconditions of a Monetary Union	23
	References	26
6	What was the Theory Behind the Formation of EMU?	27
7	Will the Eurozone Dissolve into its Constituents?	29
8	Can There be an Efficient Dissolution of a Monetary Union?	37
9	Complete Fiscal Freedom in the Transition Period?	45
	References	49
10	Understanding Crises and Recessions	51
	References	55
11	Will Bailouts Lead to a Dissolution of the Euro?	57
	References	60
12	On the Destabilizing Effects of Bailouts	61
	Reference	63
13	On Sound Money and Credit Conditions	65
	References	78

14	The Case of Free Banking	79
	References	84
15	The Explosion of Public Debts	85
16	The Current Policies of the ECB.	89
	References	97
17	Some Remarks on the Greek Problem.	99
18	Can There be Stable Currencies After the Euro?	105
	General.	105
	Some Important Questions	107
	References	117
19	The Gold Standard and Free Banking.	119
	References	126
20	An Unexpected Supporter of the Gold Standard	127
21	Fundamental Problems of The Eurozone.	131
	Reference	136
22	Stability and the Eurozone	137
	References	147
23	Conditions for Genuine Financial and Monetary Stability	149
24	International Financial Stability	153
	References	163
25	On Monetary Policies	165
	References	174
26	A New Fiscal Policy?	175
	References	184
27	The “Price Puzzle”	185
28	Re-distributional Effects of Austerity Measures	187
	Reference	192
29	Further Remarks on International Financial Stability	193

30	The Accommodation of Public Debt by Commercial Banks	209
	Reference	214
31	The Consequence of the Market's Responses	215
32	Is Eurozone Effectively a Socialist Commonwealth?	219
	References	229
33	Banking Efficiency	231
	References	239
34	Banking and Regulation	241
	References	245
35	Policy and Institutional Change in Southern Europe	247
	References	254
36	Was the Euro a Bad or a Good Idea?	255
	The Issue of Deficits	255
	“Bailouts” of Southern Economies and “Financial Stability”	256
	Asymmetric Shocks	257
	Differential Inflation Rates	258
	Restoration of Competitiveness	260
	References	263
37	The Role of the Rate of Profit	265
	References	272
38	International Industrial Structure	273
39	Capital Structure and Financial Stability	279
40	International Empirical Evidence on the ABC's of Recessions . . .	285
	Introduction.	285
	Summary of the Austrian Business Cycle Theory	286
	Empirical Investigation of the ABC Theory	287
	Introduction.	287
	Testing for Integration	288
	Testing for Co-Integration.	288
	Estimating the Co-Integration Vector	292
	Testing for Causality	296
	Summary of Findings	307
	References	308

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-01170-7>

The Euro and International Financial Stability

Tsionas, E.

2014, IX, 308 p. 5 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-01170-7