

Contents

Introduction: Towards a Global History of International Organization	1
Madeleine Herren
 Part I Constructing the Memory of International Organizations
From the League of Nations to the United Nations: The Continuing Preservation and Development of the Geneva Archives	15
Sigrun Habermann-Box
Matsuoka Yosuke's Miscalculation at Geneva: A Possible Reconsideration Using JACAR Data	31
Kenichiro Hirano
 Part II Eurocentrism and Science Policy
On the Concept of International Organization: Centralization, Hegemonism, and Constitutionalism	43
Toshiki Mogami
Activities and Discourses on International Cultural Relations in Modern Japan: The Making of KBS (Kokusai Bunka Shinko Kai), 1934–1953	53
Atsushi Shibasaki
International Control of Epidemic Diseases from a Historical and Cultural Perspective	73
Naomi Nagata

Part III International Organization as a Forum: Turning Local Concerns Into Global Issues

Sino-Japanese Controversies Over the Textbook Problem and the League of Nations	91
Shin Kawashima

Beyond Empires' Science: Inter-Imperial Pacific Science Networks in the 1920s	107
Tomoko Akami

Networking Through the Y: The Role of YMCA in China's Search for New National Identity and Internationalization	133
Guoqi Xu

Part IV Culture and Standardization: The Multifunctional and Contradictory Use of International Organizations

Global Governance: From Organizations to Networks or Not?	151
Craig N. Murphy

New Capitalism, UNESCO, and the Re-enchantment of Culture	163
Timothy D. Taylor

Popular Culture and International Cooperation in the 1930s	175
Bjarne Rogan

Avenues and Confines of Globalizing the Past: UNESCO's International Commission for a "Scientific and Cultural History of Mankind" (1952–1969)	187
Katja Naumann

Index	201
------------------------	------------

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-04210-7>

Networking the International System
Global Histories of International Organizations
Herren, M. (Ed.)
2014, VI, 205 p. 9 illus., Softcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-04210-7