

Contents

1	Introduction: A Euro-Mediterranean Regional Security Complex?	1
	Soft Power and Intra-Regionalism	6
	Hard Power and Inter-Regionalism	8
	Greater Inter-Regional EuroMed Security	9
	Concluding Remarks	10
2	Sectors of Security	11
	Ideology and Sectarian Conflicts in the EuroMed	11
	Theoretical Context of Sectarianism	13
	Political Security	15
	Coup and Post-Coup	15
	States: Failed vs. Successful	15
	Institutional Capacity	16
	Democracy	17
	Legitimacy: Ruling in Accordance with the Mandate/ Political Promise	17
	Civil Society	18
	Economic Threats	19
	Social Justice: Material and Political Inequalities— Privatization and Extreme Income Divergence	19
	Human Security	20
	Migration	20
	Food Security	21
	Human Security and the Syrian Civil War	22
	Proliferation of WMDs	24
3	Levels of Security—Intra-Regional Level	27
	Arab Spring	27
	“Smart Mobs” and “Black Swans”	28
	Asymmetrical Threats and International Regional Actors Parallel to the Arab Spring	29

Southern Mediterranean	30
Turkey	31
Turkey, the Regional Kingpin	32
Turkey's Strategic Cooperation	32
Turkey as a Bridge Between East and West	35
Israel	35
Israel–Palestine	35
Israel—Intra-Regionally	37
Lebanon	38
Tunisia	39
Egypt	40
Egyptian Post-Authoritarian Transitions	41
The Inter-Regional Context of Egypt's Current Post-Transition	43
Libya	44
R2P Involvement and Internal Economic, Political, and Social-Cultural Transition	44
The Internal Security Environment in the Greater International Context	46
Syria	48
From the Damascus Spring to the Arab Spring	48
Sectarianism and the Syrian Civil War	49
Syrian Revolts in the Strategic Crossroads Theatre	50
The Syrian Civil War and the EMRSSC	51
The Syrian Civil War as an Inter-Regional Conflict Resolution Effort: Infinite Insecurity of Soft and Hard Power Sectors and Levels?	52
Jordan	54
Northern Mediterranean: The European Union	54
European External Action Service	55
Hard Power	59
European Union Neighborhood Policy	60
Soft Power	60
Concluding Remarks	62
 4 Levels of Security—Inter-Regional Level:
Part A Select State Actors	65
The Trans-Atlantic Link: Nationalism, Realism, and Shared Interests: Convergence in “Globalized” Regional Security	65
Soft Power	66
The U.S. Middle East Partnership Initiative	66
The Third Basket: Social Cultural	68
The Second Basket: Economic	69
The First Basket: Political	71
Hard Power	72
The Trans-Atlantic Link: The U.S., NATO, and the Arab Spring	74

The U.S. and the Arab Spring: Forward	75
Iraq	76
Iran	78
Iran and the Arab Spring	78
Iran and Nuclear Enrichment	79
Iran and Political Change	80
Russia	81
Political–Bilateral/Multi-Lateral	81
Economic	84
Hard Power	84
Concluding Remarks	85
China	85
China’s Complex Interests in the EuroMed: Expanding Soft Power and Hard Power	85
5 Levels of Security—Inter-Regional Level:
Part B Non-State Actors—Inter-governmental Organizations: Global Governance—Leading from
Behind or Through Consensus?	91
NATO	91
Gulf Region/Gulf Cooperation Council	94
Sectarianism and the Arab Spring in the Gulf	94
Iraq, Iran, and the Gulf	96
GCC Inter-Regional Relationships	98
Concluding Remarks	98
Arab League	99
United Nations	100
Inter-Regional Responses to the Arab Spring: Deauville
Partnership With Arab Countries in Transition	102
6 Conclusions: Addressing Regional Security
Threats—“Locally,” “Regionally,” and “Globally”	107
Inter-Regional Responses to the Arab Spring	107
Meso-Theoretical Perspectives of the EMRSSC	108
Institutional Frameworks and the EMRSSC	111
Concluding Remarks	111
Final Words	117
A Short Guide to the Middle East	118
References	119

The Arab Spring

Re-Balancing the Greater Euro-Mediterranean?

Boening, A.B.

2014, XVII, 130 p. 5 illus., 4 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-04605-1