

Contents

1	The Meaning of Autonomy	1
	References	3
2	Family Law and Autonomy	5
	2.1 No Fault Divorce.	5
	2.2 Increased Use of Mediation	6
	References	9
3	Relational Autonomy	11
	3.1 Relational Life Inevitable	11
	3.2 Relational Life is Socially Good	14
	3.3 Obligations and Relational Autonomy	16
	3.4 Gender and Autonomy	17
	3.5 Distinguishing Relational and Traditional Autonomy	20
	References	24
4	Applying Relational Autonomy to Family Law	27
	4.1 A Family Law Which Fosters Relationships	27
	4.2 A Family Law Which Acknowledges the Significance of Relationships.	28
	4.3 A Family Law that Protects Those in Relationships from Abuse.	29
	4.4 A Family Law Which Remedies Financial Disadvantages that Result from Relationship	30
	4.5 The Role of Law in Intact Families	32
	References	32
5	Examples of Application	35
	5.1 Pre-marriage Contracts	35
	5.2 Adolescent Medical Decision Making	41
	5.3 Relationship-Based Welfare	43
	5.3.1 Indeterminacy Concerns.	45
	5.3.2 Making Welfare/Best Interests Relational.	46

5.4 Domestic Abuse 50

5.4.1 The Wrong of Domestic Violence. 50

5.4.2 Autonomy and Domestic Abuse 53

References 56

6 Conclusion. 59

Reference 60

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-04986-1>

Relational Autonomy and Family Law

Herring, J.

2014, VII, 60 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-04986-1