
Contents

1	Introduction	1
	André Dorsman, Timur Gök, and Mehmet Baha Karan
Part I Global Risks
2	Changing Dynamics and Risks in World Energy: The Way Forward	9
	Mehmet Ögütçü
3	Slack Resources, Innovation and Growth: Evidence from the US Energy Sector	29
	Abol Jalilvand and Sung Min Kim
4	Measuring Risk in Energy Markets	51
	Bert Scholtens and Konstantinos Sklavos
Part II Geopolitical Risks
5	The Natural Gas Revolution and Central Asia	71
	Robert W. Kolb
6	The Influence of Economic, Financial and Political Indicators in South East Asian Electricity Markets	89
	John Simpson
7	Geopolitical Market Concentration (GMC) Risk of Turkish Crude Oil and Natural Gas Imports	103
	Özgür Arslan-Ayaydin and Inna Khagleeva
8	Re-examining Turkey's Potential of Becoming a Natural Gas Transit Hub	119
	Mehmet Baha Karan, C. Coşkun Küçüközmen, and Arif Aktürk

Part III Market Risks

9 Hedging and Speculation: A Discussion on the Economic Role of Commodity Futures Markets (Including the Oil Markets)	145
Hilary Till
10 The Influence of Renewables on the German Day Ahead Electricity Prices	165
Nabi Adaduldah, André Dorsman, Geert Jan Franx, and Paul Pottuijt
11 Corporate Financing and Investment Decisions in the Renewable Energy Sector	183
Halit Gonenc and Nalbertina Yurukova
12 Prospective Costs for the Aviation Sector of the Emissions Trading Scheme	203
Gerard Mooney, Cal Muckley, and Don Bredin

Perspectives on Energy Risk

Dorsman, A.B.; Gök, T.; Karan, M.B. (Eds.)

2014, VIII, 220 p. 42 illus., 6 illus. in color.,

ISBN: 978-3-642-41596-8