

Contents

Part I Corporate Governance and Firm Performance

Security Voting Structure and Firm Value: Synthesis and New Insights from Emerging Markets . . . . .	3
Chinmoy Ghosh and Milena Petrova
Corporate Governance and Firm Valuation in Asian Emerging Markets . . . . .	27
Yan-Leung Cheung, J. Thomas Connelly, Jesus P. Estanislao, Piman Limpaphayom, Tong Lu, and Sidharta Utama
Corporate Governance, Product Market Competition and Firm Performance: Evidence from India . . . . .	55
Ekta Selarka
Strong Boards, Risk Committee and Bank Performance: Evidence from India and China . . . . .	79
Francesca Battaglia, Angela Gallo, and Anna Elvira Graziano

Part II Corporate Governance and Firm Behavior

Do Families Shape Corporate Board Structure in Emerging Economies? . . . . .	109
Mohammad Badrul Muttakin, Arifur Khan, and Nava Subramaniam
Regional Legal Protection and Earnings Management: Evidence from China . . . . .	133
Yuyang Zhang, Konari Uchida, and Hua Bu
Corporate Form, Institutional Complementarity, and Organizational Behavior: Open versus Closed Joint-Stock Companies in Russia . . . . .	157
Ichiro Iwasaki

Big 4 Conservatism Around the World . . . . .	197
Richard Chung, Michael Firth, Jeong-Bon Kim, and Lei Pang
Corporate Governance in Emerging Markets: What We Can Learn from a Privatisation Context . . . . .	239
Jaime Guerrero-Villegas, Gloria Cuevas-Rodríguez, and Ramón Valle-Cabrera
Part III Corporate Governance Practices in Emerging Markets
Corporate Governance in Ukraine: Major Standards and Emerging Trends . . . . .	269
Alexander Kostyuk, Markus Stiglbauer, Patrick Velte, Yuliya Lapina, and Dmitriy Riabichenko
Corporate Governance Development in a Rapidly Changing Economy: Trends and Challenges in Estonia . . . . .	289
Ruth Alas and Tiit Elenurm
Audit Committees in Polish Supervisory Boards: Common Practice and New Challenges . . . . .	311
Izabela Kołodkiewicz
Multinationals as Vectors of Corporate Governance Improvement in Emerging Economies in Eastern Europe: A Case Study . . . . .	331
Nadia Albu, Ioana Lupu, and Raluca Sandu
Corporate Governance in the Philippines and Switzerland— A Comparison of the Institutional Environment and Practices . . . . .	351
Marie dela Rama, Christophe Volonté, and Simon Zaby
Corporate Governance Practices in Nigeria . . . . .	373
Chris Ogbechie and Dimitrios N. Koufopoulos
Corporate Governance in Bangladesh: A Comparison with Other Emerging Market Countries . . . . .	395
Chowdhury Saima Ferdous, Chris Mallin, and Kean Ow-Yong
Part IV Corporate Governance: Laws, Reforms, and Practical Issues
Corporate Governance as an Antidote to Corruption in Emerging Markets . . . . .	423
Duane Windsor
The Regulatory Conundrum: Achieving Corporate Governance Reforms in Developing Countries . . . . .	445
Javed Siddiqui and Chowdhury Saima Ferdous
Limitations of Legal Transplants and Convergence to Corporate Governance Practices in Emerging Markets: The Brazilian Case . . . . .	465
Angela Donaggio

Do Pension Funds Improve the Governance of Investee Companies? Evidence from the Brazilian Market . . . . .	485
Andre Carvalhal and Carlos Almeida
Corporate Governance of Banks in Transition Countries . . . . .	499
Gian Piero Cigna, David Risser, and Hind Sami
Part V Corporate Governance Matters: Lessons from Practitioners
Towards “Shareholder Spring” in the Middle East? . . . . .	531
Alissa Amico
Challenges for Corporate Governance at Microfinance Institutions . . . .	551
Stephan Hartenstein
Convergence in Corporate Governance Practices: Evidence from Listed-Companies in Morocco . . . . .	573
Lamia El Bouanani
Guidance for Practical Corporate Governance: PhICS Model . . . . .	591
Igor Belikov, Vladimir Verbitsky, and Ekaterina Nikitchanova
Index . . . . .	607

Corporate Governance in Emerging Markets

Theories, Practices and Cases

Boubaker, S.; Nguyen, D.K. (Eds.)

2014, XXXII, 610 p. 37 illus.,

ISBN: 978-3-642-44955-0