

Contents

- 1 Introduction and Methodology 1
 - 1.1 Methodology 3
- 2 Best Practices Among Corporate Social Responsibility Leaders in China 7
 - 2.1 Criteria 1: Green Management Vision and Structure 7
 - 2.1.1 Wang Shi: How One Man’s Vision Has “Elevated” Corporate Responsibility in China 7
 - 2.2 Criteria 2: Green Management System and Reporting 14
 - 2.2.1 Baosteel’s CSR Reporting System: A Catalyst for Better CSR Performance 14
 - 2.2.2 Global Sustainability Leadership 20
 - 2.3 Criteria 3: Supplier Management Programming 28
 - 2.3.1 Sony—Diversifying Information Sharing 28
 - 2.3.2 Dow: Providing Public-Private Supplier Training and Collaboration 33
 - 2.4 Criteria 4: Climate Change and Biodiversity Protection 38
 - 2.4.1 COSCO: Weathering the Stormy Seas of Change 38
 - 2.4.2 Lenovo’s Vision for Sustainability—Collaborative Partnerships for Effective Climate Change Management . . . 44
 - 2.5 Criteria 5: Investment in the Environment 50
 - 2.5.1 Intel—Leveraging Information and Communication Technology to Transform and Reduce Clients’ Environmental Impact 50
 - 2.6 ZTE’s Green Reporting—A Springboard for Telecommunication Innovation 56
 - 2.6.1 Introduction 56
 - 2.6.2 Green Reporting, Green Innovation and the Green Technology White Book 57
 - 2.6.3 Green Reporting as a Catalyst for Change 58
 - 2.6.4 Looking Ahead 61
- 3 China’s Green Policy Landscape 63

Green Leadership in China
Management Strategies from China's Most Responsible
Companies

Lee, S.Y.; Ramasamy, A.; Rhee, J.H.

2014, XII, 65 p. 17 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-642-55057-7