

Contents

1 Academic Context of the Animation Industry.....	1
1.1 Introduction.....	1
1.2 Characteristics of the Content Industry.....	2
1.2.1 Previous Studies About the Creative Process .....	3
1.2.2 Research on Workers .....	4
1.2.3 Geographical Studies on the Content Industry in Japan .....	5
1.3 Studies of the Animation Industry .....	6
1.4 Overview of Agglomeration Theory Since the 1980s.....	8
1.5 Focus and Outline of This Book .....	11
References.....	13
2 Agglomeration of the Animation Industry in Tokyo, Japan .....	17
2.1 Introduction.....	17
2.2 Growth in the Japanese Animation Industry .....	18
2.2.1 Japanese Animation Market Structure .....	18
2.2.2 Japanese Animation Production Process and Introduction of Digital Technology.....	19
2.2.3 Location of Animation Studios in Tokyo.....	22
2.3 Transaction Characteristics .....	24
2.3.1 Basic Studio Attributes .....	24
2.3.2 Structure and Spatial Pattern of Transactions .....	24
2.3.3 Characteristics of Business Transactions .....	27
2.4 Characteristics of the Labor Market: Freelancers.....	34
2.4.1 Supply System of the Labor Force.....	35
2.4.2 Social Relationships of Freelancers .....	38
2.5 Conclusion .....	41
References.....	43

3 Agglomeration of the Animation Industry in Seoul, South Korea .....	45
3.1 Introduction.....	45
3.2 Development of the Animation Industry in Seoul .....	46
3.2.1 Evolution of the Number of TV Animation Shows in South Korea .....	46
3.2.2 Scale of the South Korean Animation Industry .....	48
3.2.3 Distribution of Animation Studios in South Korea.....	50
3.3 Characteristics of Interbusiness Transactions .....	52
3.3.1 Basic Studio Attributes .....	52
3.3.2 Characteristics of Major Clients .....	56
3.3.3 Characteristics of Business Conditions.....	58
3.4 Characteristics of the Labor Market .....	62
3.4.1 Staff Attributes .....	63
3.4.2 Social Relationships of Staff.....	67
3.5 Conclusion .....	69
References.....	71
4 Agglomeration of the Animation Industry in the Shanghai–Wuxi Region, China .....	73
4.1 Introduction.....	73
4.2 State of Development of the Chinese Animation Industry .....	74
4.2.1 Structure of the Animation Market in China.....	74
4.2.2 Chinese Government Policy and Location of Studios .....	76
4.2.3 Positioning of the Shanghai Region.....	77
4.3 Features of Business Between Studios .....	78
4.3.1 Location of Studios in Cities.....	78
4.3.2 Attributes of Studios Surveyed .....	80
4.3.3 Characteristics of Production Studios’ Business.....	88
4.4 Characteristics of the Labor Market .....	92
4.4.1 Attributes of Staff Members.....	93
4.4.2 Actual State of Staff Relationships .....	97
4.4.3 Reasons for Continuing to Work in Cities .....	99
4.5 Conclusion .....	101
References.....	103
5 Animation Workers and the Studio as a Creative Nexus in Tokyo: Studio M Workers’ Daily Activities.....	105
5.1 Introduction.....	105
5.1.1 Context.....	105
5.1.2 Japanese Animation Production Process and Worker Careers.....	106
5.1.3 Methodology.....	109

5.2	Survey and Analysis.....	110
5.2.1	Studio M Working Environment.....	110
5.2.2	Staff Residential Environment.....	112
5.2.3	Staff Work Habits.....	115
5.3	Conclusion .....	122
	References.....	124
6	Promoting the Animation Industry in Local Regions: A Case Study of Working Conditions at an Animation Studio in Okinawa.....	125
6.1	Introduction.....	125
6.1.1	Context.....	125
6.1.2	Methodology.....	126
6.2	Establishment of the Studio and Industrial Promotional Policies Aimed at the Okinawa Animation Industry.....	127
6.3	Working Environments of the Okinawa Studio and Studio M.....	131
6.3.1	Basic Staff Characteristics .....	131
6.3.2	Studio Working Hours .....	132
6.3.3	Limitations in the Division of Labor .....	132
6.4	Conclusion .....	136
	References.....	137
7	Generalities and Regionality Observed in the Agglomeration Structure of the Animation Industry in East Asia .....	139
7.1	General Factors Leading to the Agglomeration of the Animation Industry .....	139
7.1.1	Regional Concentration of Major Clients and Related Content Industries .....	140
7.1.2	Flexible and Instantaneous Division of Labor with Other Studios .....	140
7.1.3	Flexible, Specialized Workforce .....	141
7.2	Regionality of Agglomeration in the Animation Industry .....	142
7.3	Division of Labor Among Regions: The Role of Studios and Their Worker Networks.....	144
7.4	Contributions and Future Approaches .....	145
	References.....	147
	Index.....	149

The Agglomeration of the Animation Industry in East
Asia

Yamamoto, K.

2014, XI, 152 p. 38 illus., 16 illus. in color.,

ISBN: 978-4-431-55093-8