

Contents

1 Education for Life Skills in India: An Introduction. . . . .	1
1.1 Vocational Skill Development Programmes in India . . . . .	3
1.1.1 Youth Development and Entrepreneurship. . . . .	4
1.1.2 Integrating Basic Life Skills in the School Curriculum . . . . .	5
1.2 Challenges in Entrepreneurship Education . . . . .	6
1.2.1 Determination of Educational Directions. . . . .	8
1.2.2 Handling Instruction Programmes Through Selection, Ordering, Principles and Procedures . . . . .	8
1.2.3 Selecting the Pattern of Curriculum Organisation . . . . .	9
1.2.4 Initiating Changes in Curriculum. . . . .	9
1.3 About the Book . . . . .	10
References . . . . .	13
2 Entrepreneurship and Skill Development. . . . .	15
2.1 Approach to Entrepreneurship Education . . . . .	16
2.1.1 Policy, Practices and Skill Development Initiatives . . . . .	20
2.1.2 Entrepreneurship and Vocational Education. . . . .	22
2.1.3 Lessons from the Global Entrepreneurship Monitor (India) Report, 2002. . . . .	24
2.2 Pedagogical Glimpses of 'Work' and Social Engagements as Curricular Components: Exemplar Lessons from the State of Maharashtra in India . . . . .	24
2.2.1 Artisans and Farmers as 'Honourable Teachers': M. N. Institute for Non-formal Education, District Satara, Maharashtra. . . . .	26
2.2.2 Goat Farm, Poultry and Plant Nursery as Work Experience Sites: Pragat Shikshan Santha, District Satara, Maharashtra. . . . .	26
2.2.3 Linking 'Work' with Development: Vigyan Ashram at Pabal, District Pune, Maharashtra . . . . .	27
2.3 International Perspectives. . . . .	27
2.4 Entrepreneurship and Quality Education . . . . .	28
Appendix A: Entrepreneurship Self-Assessment Scale. . . . .	30

Appendix B: Problem Solving Adequacy Scale . . . . .	33
References . . . . .	34
3 Methodological Framework for Entrepreneurship Education . . . . .	37
3.1 Stages of School Education . . . . .	38
3.1.1 The Elementary Stage of Education . . . . .	38
3.1.2 The Secondary Stage of Education . . . . .	40
3.1.3 Higher Secondary Stage and Vocational Education . . . . .	45
3.2 Managing the System: Strategies . . . . .	47
3.2.1 Home-School-Community Partnership . . . . .	48
3.2.2 Professional Support for Teacher Education . . . . .	49
References . . . . .	51
4 Curriculum Design for Entrepreneurship Education: An Experimental Project . . . . .	53
4.1 Purpose of Curricula . . . . .	54
4.2 Assumptions in Curriculum Development . . . . .	55
4.3 Selection and Sequence of Learning Experiences . . . . .	55
4.4 Themes for Curricula . . . . .	55
4.5 Writing Narratives for Children . . . . .	56
4.5.1 The Entrepreneur in Narratives . . . . .	56
4.6 Design of Learning Activities . . . . .	60
4.6.1 Activity 1: Working for Own Enterprise Versus Working for Others . . . . .	61
4.6.2 Activity 2: Articulating a Life Plan . . . . .	62
4.6.3 Activity 3: Who is an Entrepreneur? . . . . .	63
4.6.4 Activity 4: Think for a Moment that You have the Ability to Make the World a Better Place for People, Animals, Birds, the Community and the Environment . . . . .	63
4.7 Conclusion . . . . .	64
References . . . . .	64
5 Entrepreneurship Narratives for Children . . . . .	65
5.1 Narrative Approach to Curriculum Delivery . . . . .	66
5.2 The Impact of Entrepreneurship Narratives . . . . .	77
5.2.1 Taking Initiative . . . . .	77
5.2.2 How Entrepreneurs Think . . . . .	78
5.2.3 Hobbies as Opportunity . . . . .	78
5.2.4 Thinking Sideways: The Art of Recognising Opportunities . . . . .	78
5.2.5 Market Gap as Opportunity . . . . .	78
References . . . . .	81
6 Curriculum Evaluation . . . . .	83
6.1 Typology of Thinking . . . . .	84
6.2 Evaluation Plan . . . . .	86

6.3	Some Basic Considerations . . . . .	87
6.3.1	Evaluation and Measurement . . . . .	88
6.3.2	How are Instruction and Evaluation Related? . . . . .	88
6.4	Functions of Evaluation . . . . .	89
6.4.1	Distinguishing Features of a Good Evaluation Programme . . . . .	93
6.5	Evaluation Matrix for Entrepreneurship Education . . . . .	94
	References . . . . .	99
7	Entrepreneurship and School Education: The Beginning of a Relationship . . . . .	101
7.1	Reforms in Education . . . . .	102
7.1.1	Institutionalising Entrepreneurship Education . . . . .	103
7.2	Strategies . . . . .	104

<http://www.springer.com/978-81-322-1788-6>

Developing Entrepreneurial Life Skills
Creating and Strengthening Entrepreneurial Culture in Indian Schools

Vaidya, S.

2014, XI, 105 p. 14 illus., Softcover

ISBN: 978-81-322-1788-6