Contents

1 Conceptual Framework 1
1.1 The Mindset and the Milieu 1
1.2 Continuity Amidst Continuous Change in Culture and Mindset 2
1.2.1 Adding New Ideas and Influences to the Old 4
1.2.2 Tolerance of Differences 6
1.2.3 Metonymic Thinking 6
1.2.4 Oral Tradition 7
1.3 Layers of the Indian Mindset 9
1.3.1 Primordial Mindset 10
1.3.2 Demoralized Mindset 13
1.3.3 Colonized Mindset 16
1.3.4 Multilayered Mindset 18
1.4 Putting the Pieces Together 21
1.5 How Does the Indian Mindset Work? 21
1.5.1 Mental Blocks and Disputations 22
1.5.2 Shifting Mindset 23
1.6 Summary 24
References 24

2 Collectivism and Individualism 27
2.1 Concepts of Collectivism and Individualism 27
2.1.1 The Indian Approach to Collectivism and Individualism 29
2.2 Cosmic Collectivism and Individualistic Striving 29
2.2.1 Cosmic Collectivism: One in All and All in One 29
2.2.2 Individualistic Striving for Self-Realization 31
2.3 New Avatar of Collectivism and Individualism 32
2.3.1 Collectivism, Allocentrism and In-Group Influence 33
2.3.2 The Coexistence of Opposites 38
2.3.3 Means-End Relationship 40

2.4 A Reflective Note . . . 44
2.5 Summary . . . 46
Appendix 2.1: Modal Responses Combining Collectivism and Individualism . . . 47
References . . . 49

3 Hierarchy and Power Process . . . 53
3.1 The Cultural Conditioning of Hierarchy . . . 53
3.1.1 Genesis of Hierarchy . . . 53
3.1.2 Cultural Mediation . . . 54
3.2 Indian Hierarchical Orientation . . . 55
3.2.1 The Emerging Trend of Discordance . . . 57
3.3 Ancient Hierarchical Worldview . . . 58
3.4 Power Distance and Hierarchical Order . . . 61
3.5 The Power Process in Indian Culture . . . 63
3.5.1 Cultural Construction of Power . . . 63
3.5.2 Perceptual Frame . . . 66
3.5.3 Power Process Among Apane Log . . . 67
3.5.4 Power Process Among Paraye Log . . . 68
3.5.5 Power Process in Twilight Zone of Relationships . . . 71
3.6 Integrative Reflection . . . 73
3.7 Summary . . . 74
References . . . 74

4 Spirituality and Materialism . . . 77
4.1 The Constructs of Spirituality and Materialism . . . 77
4.2 Ancient Constructions of Spirituality and Materialism . . . 79
4.2.1 Vedantic Perspective . . . 79
4.2.2 The Saankya School . . . 82
4.2.3 Buddhism and Jainism . . . 83
4.2.4 Thoughts on Materialism . . . 84
4.2.5 The Caarvaakas' Lokaayata Tradition of Materialism . . . 85
4.3 Contemporary Formulation of Spirituality and Materialism . . . 86
4.3.1 Expressions of Spirituality . . . 87
4.3.2 Materialistic Indians . . . 91
4.3.3 Spirituality Embedded in Materialism . . . 93
4.4 Summary . . . 96
References . . . 96

5 Religiosity, Secularism and Sexuality . . . 99
5.1 The Triangular Configuration Between Religiosity, Secularism and Sexuality . . . 99

5.2 The Cultural Roots of Religiosity, Secularism and Sexuality in India . . . 100
5.2.1 Religiosity . . . 100
5.2.2 Secularism in Indian and Western Perspectives . . . 102
5.2.3 Sexuality . . . 105
5.3 The Contemporary Formulation of Secularism, Religiosity and Sexuality . . . 108
5.3.1 Political Secularism . . . 108
5.3.2 Hindu Nationalism and Religiosity . . . 111
5.3.3 Religiosity of Modern Indians . . . 114
5.3.4 Contemporary Expressions of Sexuality . . . 116
5.4 Summary . . . 120
References . . . 120

6 Entrepreneurship Amidst Dependence Proneness . . . 123
6.1 Concepts of Dependence Proneness and Entrepreneurship . . . 123
6.1.1 The Source of Dependence Proneness and Entrepreneurship . . . 126
6.2 From Entrepreneurship to Excessive Dependency . . . 127
6.2.1 Rise of Entrepreneurship . . . 128
6.2.2 Fall into Excessive Dependency . . . 130
6.2.3 Sprouting of Entrepreneurship . . . 134
6.3 Emerging Entrepreneurship from Pervasive Dependence Proneness . . . 136
6.3.1 Pervasive Dependency . . . 136
6.3.2 What Dependence Prone People Do, Believe and Prefer . . . 136
6.3.3 What Those Who Are Not Dependence Prone Do, Believe and Prefer . . . 137
6.3.4 Resurrection of Entrepreneurship . . . 140
6.4 Figure–Ground Relationship . . . 143
6.5 Summary . . . 144
References . . . 144

7 The Paradoxical Indian Mindset . . . 147
7.1 Paradoxes in the Indian Mindset . . . 147
7.1.1 Harmony and Nonviolence Versus Conflicts and Violence . . . 147
7.1.2 The Doctrine of Karma, Faith in Destiny and Premium on Efforts . . . 149
7.1.3 Avoidance and Tolerance of Uncertainty . . . 152
7.1.4 Masculinity and Femininity . . . 154
7.1.5 Analytic, Synthetic and Intuitive Ways of Knowing . . . 156

7.2 Paradoxes Can Be Adaptive and Creative 160
7.2.1 Paradoxes Are Universal 160
7.2.2 The Mediating Role of Culture 161
7.2.3 Adaptive and Creative Potential of Paradoxes 162
7.3 Duplicity, Selfishness and Achieving Orientation 163
7.3.1 Fathers' Discrepant Behaviours 166
7.3.2 Mothers' Discrepant Behaviours 166
7.3.3 Adolescents' Discrepant Behaviours 166
7.4 Summary 166
References 167

8 The Shifting Mindset 171
8.1 Variable Indian Mindset 171
8.2 Switching of Cultural Frames 171
8.3 Reorganizing Indian Mindset 173
8.3.1 Construction of Situation and Response 176
8.4 Context Sensitivity and Balancing 179
8.4.1 Ways of Balancing 180
8.4.2 Relativism as Part of Contextualization 181
8.4.3 Structural and Functional Dimensions 183
8.4.4 Empirical Evidence of Contextual Effects 185
8.4.5 The Unfinished Task 190
8.5 Summary 191
References 192

9 Mindset in the Larger Context 195
9.1 The Bright and the Bleak in the Indian Milieu 195
9.1.1 Window of New Opportunities 195
9.1.2 Surrounding Darkness 199
9.2 Enduring Constraints 202
9.2.1 Caste and Poverty 202
9.2.2 Culture of Poverty and Poverty Syndrome 205
9.3 Trinity of Disablers 206
9.3.1 Enveloping Corruption 206
9.3.2 Conflicts and Violence 210
9.3.3 Fragmenting Politics 211
9.4 Integrative Reflection 213
9.5 Summary 216
References 217

10 Epilogue 221
10.1 Potentials and Problem of the Indian Mindset 221
10.2 Ways of Putting the Mindset on a Positive Trajectory. 224
References 225

Glossary of Hindi Words and Their English Equivalent 227

Author Index 235

Subject Index 241

http://www.springer.com/978-81-322-1803-6

Psycho-Social Analysis of the Indian Mindset
Sinha, J.B.P.
2014, XXI, 244 p. 7 illus., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-81-322-1803-6