

Contents

1	Context and Objectives of the Study	1
1.1	Background	1
1.1.1	National Clean Energy Fund	2
1.1.2	Energy Efficiency	3
1.1.3	Power Plants	3
1.1.4	Renewable Energy	3
1.1.5	Nuclear Energy	4
1.1.6	Transport	4
1.1.7	Agriculture and Forestry	4
1.1.8	Marine and Coastal Environment	4
1.1.9	Initiatives for Enhancing Knowledge and Scientific Findings	5
1.1.10	Enhancing Adaptive Capacity	5
1.2	Objectives of the Study	5
	References	7
2	Existing Framework and Operation of NCEF: A Review	9
2.1	Existing Framework of NCEF	9
2.2	Objectives of NCEF	10
2.3	Projects Eligible for Funding Under NCEF	10
2.4	Mode of Appraisal and Approval of Project Proposals	10
2.5	Funding Limit, Eligibility and Funding Mechanism	11
2.6	NCEF Activities: Based on Information in Public Domain	12
2.7	The Present Framework and Operation of NCEF: An Assessment	12
2.8	Key Findings from Review of Existing Structure and Operation of NCEF	13
	References	14
3	International Clean Energy Funds: A Review	15
3.1	Review of Funds and Learning for NCEF	15
3.1.1	Green Municipal Fund	15
3.1.2	The California Clean Energy Fund	18
3.1.3	Energy Conservation Promotion Fund, Thailand	20

3.1.4	The Clean Energy Finance Corporation.	21
3.1.5	Malaysian Electricity Supply Industries Trust Account.	23
3.2	Key Lessons from Review of International Clean Energy Funds	23
	References.	26
4	NCEF: Aligning Activities with the Objectives.	27
4.1	Niche for the Fund and Value Addition of the Fund Needs to be Spelt Out Clearly so that it is Properly Understood by the Stakeholders.	27
4.2	Acting as a Catalyst to Help Boost Development of a Robust Clean Energy Industry	29
4.2.1	Identifying Technology and Innovation Needs and Instituting a Development Plan for Same	29
4.2.2	Financial and Institutional Support for Accelerating Clean Energy Technologies and Innovative Projects	43
4.2.3	Skill Development	55
4.2.4	Knowledge Creation and Sharing.	56
4.3	As an Anchor for Establishing Linkages with International Organizations	56
4.4	As an Anchor for Synergy and Linkages with Domestic Institutions	58
4.5	A Dedicated NCEF Team with Appropriate Expertise and Accountability	58
4.5.1	A Professional Organization with Clear Mandate and Accountability	58
4.5.2	Administrative Structure	59
	References.	59
5	Monitoring and Evaluation of the Projects and Programs Supported by the Fund.	61
5.1	Monitoring and Performance Assessment	61
5.2	Indicators of Assessment	63
5.2.1	Core Indicators	64
5.3	Project Classification Method to Facilitate Monitoring	65
5.4	Project Eligibility Criterion to Facilitate Monitoring.	66
5.5	Description of Next Steps.	71
5.5.1	Business Justification Review and Process of Selecting Business Solution	71
5.6	Examples of Tools and Deliverables	73
5.6.1	Comparison Between Monitoring and Performance Evaluation of a Project and a Fund	74
	References.	75

6	Evaluation of the Fund	77
6.1	Baseline Identification	78
6.2	Framework for Performance Evaluation	79
6.2.1	Indirect Indicators.	81
6.3	Monitoring of the Fund	81
6.3.1	Mechanism to Ensure Monitoring and Periodic Independent Evaluation of the Fund's Performance	86
7	Findings and Recommendations	87
7.1	Context and Objectives.	87
7.2	Findings and Recommendations	88
7.2.1	Key Findings from Review of Existing Structure and Operation of NCEF	88
7.2.2	Key Lessons from Review of International Clean Energy Funds	89
7.2.3	Proposed Framework for NCEF.	91
7.2.4	Framework for Allocation of Funds	91
7.2.5	Prioritization Across Energy Sectors	93
7.2.6	Financing Models and Mechanisms.	96
7.2.7	Skill Development	98
7.2.8	Knowledge Creation and Sharing.	98
7.2.9	Anchor for Establishing Linkages with International Organizations	99
7.2.10	Anchor for Synergy and Linkages with Domestic Institutions	99
7.2.11	A Dedicated NCEF Team with Appropriate Expertise and Accountability	100
7.2.12	Monitoring and Evaluation of Activities Supported by NCEF.	101
7.2.13	Performance Evaluation of NCEF	102
	Annexure 1: Experts and Stakeholders Consulted During the Course of the Study	103
	Annexure 2: Norms for Computing Likely Energy Saving from RE Usage	105
	Annexure 3: Templates for Monitoring and Evaluation	107

The National Clean Energy Fund of India
A Framework for Promoting Effective Utilization
Pandey, R.; Bali, S.; Mongia, N.
2014, XXI, 115 p. 30 illus., Softcover
ISBN: 978-81-322-1963-7