

Contents

1	Human Rights and Human Nature: Introduction	1
	Marion Albers, Thomas Hoffmann, and Jörn Reinhardt
Part I The Role of Nature in Human Rights Discourse – Foundations and Limitations
2	The Double Foundation of Human Rights in Human Nature	11
	Corinna Mieth
3	Human Rights and Human Animals	23
	Bernd Ladwig
4	Human Rights, Human Dignity, and the Human Life Form	43
	Thomas Hoffmann
5	Rethinking Human Nature as a Basis for Human Rights	57
	Harun Tepe
6	The Relationship Between Human Nature and Human Rights. The Confucian Example	79
	Mateusz Stępień
7	The Natural Faculty of Empathy as a Basis for Human Rights	95
	Frederik von Harbou
8	Human Rights and Basic Needs	109
	Peter Schaber
9	Human Rights Beyond Naturalism	121
	Arnd Pollmann
10	Human Rights, Human Nature, and the Feasibility Issue	137
	Jörn Reinhardt

Part II Species Manipulation and the Transformation of Human Nature – Challenges to Human Rights

11 How to Protect “Human Nature” – By Human Dignity, Human Rights or with “Species-Ethics” Argumentations?	161
Georg Lohmann
12 Species, Potentiality and Their Manipulation	173
Markus Rothhaar
13 Collection of Human Tissue Samples in Biobanks: Challenges to Human Rights and Human Nature	185
Bianka S. Dörr
14 The Body, the Law, and the Market: Public Policy Implications in a Liberal State	197
Ingrid Schneider
15 Should Society Guarantee Individuals the Right to Maintain “Normal Functioning”? A Genetic Minimalist Approach in a Globalized World	217
Tetsu Sakurai
16 Enhancement, Human Nature, and Human Rights.....	235
Marion Albers
About the Authors	267
Index	271

Human Rights and Human Nature

Albers, M.; Hoffmann, Th.; Reinhardt, J. (Eds.)

2014, VI, 274 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-94-017-8671-3