

Contents

1 The Diversity Problem	1
Terminological Aside	8
References	10
2 The Cognitivity of Religious Language	11
Meaningfulness	12
Truth-Aptness	16
Conclusion	22
References	22
3 Religious Experience as Perceptual	25
Experiences with Perception-Like Features	26
Jewish, Christian, and Islamic	26
Buddhist	28
Objections to Perceptual Understanding	29
Hobbes's Objection and Naturalistic Explanation	29
Conclusion	36
References	36
4 The Justificatory Force of Religious Experience	39
Purported Defeaters to the Justification of Perception	40
Plantinga and the De Jure Question	40
Alston and Doxastic-Practice Coherentism	41
Perceptual Error and Psychology	46
Conclusion	49
References	50
5 Buddhist Testimony and Christian Testimony	53
Testimonial Justification	54
Application to the Religious Case	59

What About Differences Among Practices? . . . . .	60
References . . . . .	64
Author Index . . . . .	65

A Comparative Doxastic-Practice Epistemology of Religious Experience

Webb, M.

2015, X, 66 p., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-09455-7