

---

Contents

Part I Introduction

- 1 The Search for Evolutionary Approaches to Governance . . . . . 3
Raoul Beunen, Kristof Van Assche, and Martijn Duineveld
- 2 An Overview of EGT's Main Concepts . . . . . 19
Kristof Van Assche, Raoul Beunen, and Martijn Duineveld

Part II Configuration of Actors and Institutions

- 3 Planning and Law in Evolving Governance . . . . . 37
Kristof Van Assche, Raoul Beunen, Anneke Smit, and Gert Verschraegen
- 4 The Evolution of Welfare State Governance . . . . . 57
Gert Verschraegen
- 5 Cultures of Informality and Networks of Power in Post-Soviet
Non-democracies . . . . . 73
Nicolas Hayoz
- 6 Agricultural Resources Governance in Uzbekistan: A System
Theory-Inspired Perspective on Evolutionary Governance . . . . . 87
Anna-Katharina Hornidge, Kristof Van Assche, and Anastasiya Shtaltovna
- 7 The Emergence of Governance and the Function of Law . . . . . 107
Poul F. Kjaer
- 8 Evolutionary Governance, Sustainability, and Systems Theory:
The Case of Central Asia . . . . . 119
Nodir Djanibekov and Vladislav Valentinov

Part III Configurations of Power/Knowledge

- 9 Power/Knowledge as a Driver for Governance Evolution . . . . . 137
Raoul Beunen, Kristof Van Assche, and Martijn Duineveld
- 10 The Role of Fantasy in Public Policy Formation . . . . . 143
Michael Gunder

|           |                                                                                                                          |            |
|-----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 11 | Topology and Object Formation . . . . .                                                                           | 155 |
|           | Iulian Barba Lata                                                                                                        |            |
| 12 | Performances and Performativities of Resilience . . . . .                                                         | 167 |
|           | Jean Hillier                                                                                                             |            |
| 13 | Heated Debates: The Transformation of Urban Warming intoan Object of Governance in the Netherlands . . . . . | 185 |
|           | Daan Boezeman and Henk-Jan Kooij                                                                                         |            |
| 14 | Evolution of Governance or Genealogy of Power? . . . . .                                                          | 205 |
|           | Guus Dix                                                                                                                 |            |

Part IV Case Studies

|           |                                                                                                                                                                |            |
|-----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 15 | Bridging Promises and (Dis)Illusions: Deliberative Democracyin an Evolutionary Perspective . . . . .                                               | 215 |
|           | Luigi Pellizzoni                                                                                                                                               |            |
| 16 | A Co-evolutionary Perspective on the Adoption of SustainableLand Use Practices: The Case of the Amu Darya River Lowlands,Uzbekistan . . . . . | 233 |
|           | Utkur Djanibekov                                                                                                                                               |            |
| 17 | Between Individual Autonomy and Centralized Control: Outliningan Evolutionary Model of Neo-endogenous Rural Development . . .                      | 247 |
|           | Martin Petrick                                                                                                                                                 |            |
| 18 | Accounting in Evolving Organizations . . . . .                                                                                                          | 267 |
|           | Annastasiya Shtaltovna, Kristof Van Assche, and Anna-Katharina Hornidge                                                                                        |            |
| 19 | Negotiating Differences: The Role of Social Identity in theEmergence of Institutions for Local Governance . . . . .                                | 291 |
|           | Jasper de Vries and Albert Aalvanger                                                                                                                           |            |
| 20 | Administrative (De)Centralization and the Governing ofBorderlands: Towards Transmodern Governance in Belgiumand DR Congo . . . . .            | 305 |
|           | Patrick Devlieger                                                                                                                                              |            |
| 21 | Innovation in Governance . . . . .                                                                                                                      | 313 |
|           | Kristof Van Assche, Raoul Beunen, Iulian Barba Lata,and Martijn Duineveld                                                                                  |            |

Part V Conclusions

|           |                                                         |            |
|-----------|---------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 22 | Bright Futures! (and Plenty of Work) . . . . .   | 329 |
|           | Raoul Beunen, Kristof Van Assche, and Martijn Duineveld |            |
|           | Glossary . . . . .                               | 335 |

Evolutionary Governance Theory

Theory and Applications

Beunen, R.; Van Assche, K.; Duineveld, M. (Eds.)

2015, X, 348 p. 8 illus., 4 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-12273-1