

Contents

Part I Theoretical Development of FMDT

1 Family Mode Deactivation Therapy for Youth:
An Introduction .....	3
Overview .....	3
Adolescent Problem Behaviors by the Numbers .....	5
Family-Based Mindfulness Therapy for Adolescents.....	10
Cost-Benefit Analysis .....	15
Cost of Adolescent Behavior Problems .....	15
MDT Effectiveness .....	17
Cost-Benefit of MDT .....	18
FMDT in a Nutshell .....	19
FMDT Philosophy and Theory .....	19
FMDT Concepts.....	21
FMDT Methodology .....	22
FMDT Distinctiveness .....	24
Conclusions.....	27
Key Points .....	28
References.....	28
2 Third-Wave Therapies for Children and Adolescents:
Origins and Development .....	31
Overview .....	31
First Wave: Psychoanalytic Therapy.....	32
Second Wave: Behavior Therapy .....	34
Third Wave: Cognitive Behavioral Therapies.....	35
Cognitive Behavioral Therapy .....	36
Acceptance and Commitment Therapy.....	41
Dialectical Behavior Therapy .....	42
Schema Therapy.....	45
Mode Deactivation Therapy.....	47

Beyond the Third Wave.....	48
Conclusions.....	49
Key Points.....	50
References.....	51
3 FMDT Key Concepts .....	53
Overview .....	53
Mindfulness.....	53
Cognitive Defusion .....	55
Cognitive Realignment .....	57
Emotional Defusion .....	59
Emotion Regulation.....	62
Externalizing and Internalizing Behaviors.....	64
Reactive and Proactive Aggression.....	65
Continuum Concept .....	66
Conclusions.....	67
Key Points.....	68
References.....	68
4 MDT Theoretical Framework and Comparison .....	71
Overview .....	71
FMDT Treatment Paradigm.....	71
Schemas and Modes.....	73
Theoretical Construct of MDT.....	73
Beck's Construct of Modes.....	73
Development of Cognitive Theory.....	74
Schemas in MDT .....	76
Concept of Modes in MDT .....	77
Disputation Versus Acceptance of Cognitions in MDT.....	79
MDT Redirection of Beliefs .....	81
Theoretical Considerations in Family-Based MDT.....	82
Comparison of MDT and Other Cognitive Approaches .....	84
Therapeutic Approach of MDT .....	84
Differences and Similarities in Third-Wave Therapies.....	85
Can Third-Wave Therapies Integrate? .....	92
Conclusions.....	94
Key Points.....	94
References.....	95
5 The Empirical Status of Mode Deactivation Therapy .....	99
Overview .....	99
Method .....	100
Data Selection .....	101
Treatment Protocol.....	102
Participant Profiles .....	103
Assessment Instruments.....	104
Data Management .....	106

Results.....	107
Forest Plots.....	108
MDT Versus TAU Comparison.....	110
Effect Sizes .....	112
Results at Follow-Up .....	114
Family-Based MDT Studies .....	115
Independent MDT Studies .....	116
Comparison to Other Studies .....	117
Conclusions.....	119
Key Points .....	120
References.....	120

Part II FMDT, from Case Conceptualization to Treatment

6 MDT Assessment Processes.....	125
Overview .....	125
Client Typology Interview .....	126
Fear Assessment.....	127
Fear Assessment Development .....	127
Fear Assessment Questionnaire .....	128
Fear Assessment Scoring and Interpretation.....	129
Compound Core Beliefs Questionnaire .....	129
CCBQ Development .....	131
CCBQ Questionnaire .....	133
CCBQ Scoring and Interpretation.....	141
Administration of MDT Assessments.....	142
Conclusions.....	143
Key Points .....	143
References.....	144
7 FMDT Acceptance and Mindfulness.....	145
Overview .....	145
Buddhist Philosophy Underlying Mindfulness.....	146
Suffering in Buddhism.....	148
Attachment in Buddhism .....	150
Self in Buddhism.....	151
Thoughts and Feelings in Buddhism.....	153
MDT Application of Buddhist Principles .....	154
Suffering in MDT.....	154
Attachment in MDT .....	156
Self in MDT .....	157
Thoughts and Feelings in MDT .....	158
Mindfulness in the MDT Process .....	159
Mindfulness Exercises .....	160
Brief Focused Breathing .....	161
Conscious Breathing Exercise .....	162

Balancing Thoughts and Feelings .....	164
Applying Mindfulness in an MDT Session .....	166
Conclusions .....	170
Key Points .....	171
References .....	171
8 Case Conceptualization .....	173
Overview .....	173
Mode Deactivation Case Conceptualization Steps .....	174
Triggers, Fears, Avoids, and Beliefs Correlation (TFAB) .....	177
Conglomerate of Beliefs and Behavior .....	179
Mode Deactivation .....	181
Situational Analysis .....	182
Functional Treatment Development Form .....	183
Case Study .....	185
Case Summary .....	185
Step I: Childhood Data and Abuse History .....	186
Step II: Behavioral Data .....	187
Step III: Diagnosis .....	188
Step IV: Triggers, Fears, Avoids, and Compound Core Beliefs Correlation (TFAB) .....	188
Step V: Conglomerate of Beliefs and Behaviors .....	189
Step VI: Situational Analysis .....	191
Step VII: Mode Activation/Deactivation .....	191
Step VIII: Functional Treatment Development Form .....	194
Conclusions .....	194
Key Points .....	196
References .....	196
9 Validation, Clarification, and Redirection .....	197
Overview .....	197
VCR Concept .....	197
VCR Practical Application .....	199
Validation .....	200
Clarification .....	203
Redirection .....	204
Clinical Effect of VCR .....	207
Conclusions .....	209
Key Points .....	210
References .....	211

Part III FMDT in Special Populations, Discussion and Case Studies

10 Treating Mood Disorders: Anxiety, Depression, and Suicidality .....	215
Overview .....	215
Prevalence, Causes, and Expressions of Mood Disorders .....	215

Cognitive Theory of Mood Disorders .....	217
MDT Treatment Considerations .....	224
Mode Deactivation Theory and Mood Disorders.....	224
Mode Deactivation Therapy Methodology and Mood Disorders .....	226
MDT Research with Adolescent Mood Disorders.....	228
FMDT Case Study .....	231
Case Summary .....	231
Client Family History .....	232
Clinical Diagnosis.....	232
Mode Deactivation Therapy Case Conceptualization.....	233
Charles' Fear Assessment Results .....	233
Case Summary and Final Words .....	237
Conclusions.....	238
Key Points .....	239
References.....	239
11 Treating Externalizing Disorders: FMDT for Adolescents
with Aggressive Behavior .....	243
Overview .....	243
Prevalence and Consequences of Adolescent Aggression.....	243
Etiology and Types of Adolescent Aggressive Behavior.....	244
Reactive and Proactive Aggression.....	245
Trait and State Anger .....	248
Internalized and Externalized Anger .....	251
MDT Treatment Considerations .....	252
Mode Deactivation Theory and Aggressive Behavior .....	253
Mode Deactivation Therapy Methodology
and Aggressive Behavior .....	254
Determining the Family Fears and Beliefs .....	254
MDT Skills Application in the Family with Aggression .....	256
Continuum Scales and Dealing with Lapses
in Aggressive Behavior .....	258
MDT Research with Adolescent Aggressive Behaviors .....	259
FMDT Case Study .....	262
Case Summary .....	263
Client Summary and Brief History .....	264
Family History .....	265
MDT Assessments .....	266
Diagnosis.....	267
Case Conceptualization.....	268
MDT Treatment Recommendations.....	268
Conclusions.....	269
Key Points .....	270
References.....	270

12 FMDT for Sexual Offending Youth .....	273
Overview .....	273
Prevalence of Adolescent Sex Offending.....	274
Theories of Adolescent Sexual Offending.....	276
Deterrence/Rational Choice Theory .....	277
Theory of Cognitive Distortions .....	278
Finkelhor's Precondition Theory .....	280
Hall and Hirschman's Quadripartite Theory of Child Molestation .....	281
Marshall and Barbaree's Integrated Theory.....	282
Ward and Siegert's Pathways Model of Child Sexual Abuse .....	283
Ward and Beech's Unified Theory .....	285
Risks Factors, Typologies, and Recidivism .....	286
Clinical Symptomatology .....	288
Typology .....	289
Trajectory and Development.....	290
Treatment Effectiveness and Recidivism .....	292
MDT Treatment Considerations .....	293
Theories, Risks, and Trajectories: What It Means for MDT .....	294
MDT Treatment Effectiveness for Adolescent Sexual Offenders.....	295
Advantages and Concerns of MDT for Adolescent Sexual Offenders.....	296
Conclusions.....	297
Key Points .....	298
References.....	298
13 MDT, Mindfulness, and Trauma .....	303
Overview .....	303
Prevalence of Trauma.....	303
Neuro-Cognitive Aspects of Trauma .....	305
Brain Models of Behavior.....	305
Default Mode Network .....	306
Developmental Impact of Trauma.....	308
Traumagenic Dynamics Theory.....	309
Cognitive Theory of Trauma.....	310
Complex Developmental Trauma .....	312
Trauma, Cognitions, and Schemata .....	313
Trauma, Genetics, and Substance Abuse .....	314
Mindfulness and Trauma from a Buddhist Perspective .....	316
MDT Treatment Considerations .....	318
Mode Deactivation Theory and Trauma .....	318
Mode Deactivation Methodology and Trauma .....	320
MDT Research with Traumatized Populations .....	324
Conclusions.....	327
Key Points .....	328
References.....	329

14 MDT in the Wider Social Context: Opportunities and Challenges on the Road Ahead .....	333
Overview .....	333
Requirements of Recognized Psychotherapy.....	333
MDT and Challenging Populations .....	334
Distressed, Dysfunctional, and Abusive Families.....	336
Emerging Psychopaths.....	339
Treating the “Untreatable” .....	344
Preventing Adolescent Meltdown .....	345
Extending MDT to Other Populations and Applications .....	346
Conclusions and Final Words .....	348
Key Points .....	349
References.....	349
Appendix A: MDT Typology Survey .....	355
I. Identifying Information.....	355
II. Family Information .....	355
III. Substance Abuse History .....	356
IV. Medical .....	357
V. Educational .....	357
VI. Emotional.....	358
VII. Physiological.....	359
VIII. Interpersonal Relationships and Social.....	360
IX. Sexual Offending .....	360
X. Physical Abuse.....	361
XI. Sexual Abuse.....	361
XII. Other Abuse and Trauma .....	362
XIII. Expectations of Treatment .....	363
Appendix B: Strength of Fears .....	365
Appendix C: Compound Core Beliefs: Short Version (CCBQ-SV) .....	369
Appendix D: CCBQ-SV Score Sheet .....	375
Appendix E: Profile Chart: CCBQ-SV .....	377
Index .....	379

Treating Adolescents with Family-Based Mindfulness

Swart, J.; Bass, C.K.; Apsche, J.A.

2015, XI, 387 p. 50 illus., 1 illus. in color., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-12699-9