Contents

1 A Dramatic Landscape 1
D.J. Lowe and C.M. King
Introduction 1
The Taupo Eruption 2
Geological History of the West Taupo Area 4
Pureora and Titiraupenga. 11
Rivers and Valleys 14
How Geography Helps Determine History 15
References. 15

2 Forests and Native Wildlife 19
C.M. King, J.R. Hay, M.C. Smale, J.R. Leathwick and A.E. Beveridge
Early European Descriptions 19
The Forests Today 21
The Mires 25
The Buried Forest 25
Dating the Taupo Eruption 28
The Volcanic Succession Debate 29
Interactions Within the Forest Community. 31
Forest Regeneration 32
Native Wildlife 33
Extinct Vertebrate Species 33
Living Species of Land Vertebrates. 34
Invertebrates. 38
References. 40

3 The Maori of the Central North Island Before 1860 43
C.M. King and T. Roa
Tribal Boundaries. 43
Maori Values. 45
Myths and Facts. 47
Origins of the Central North Island Maori 47
Exploration and Settlement. 47
Fire. 50
Food Resources 51
Moa 51
Kuri 51

Rats 52
Birds 56
Kumara 59
Pigs 60
Potatoes and Other European Vegetables 61
Kainga 62
Horses 63
The Great Feast of 1856 63
References 65

4 The European Impact: Exploration to Conflict, 1840–1890 67
C.M. King and N.A. Ritchie
Travellers' Tales 68
Bidwill, Dieffenbach and Ensign Best 70
Angas 72
Smith 74
Hochstetter 75
Kerry-Nicholls 79
Te Heuheu Iwikau and the King Movement 80
War 81
Te Rohe Potae 84
Te Kooti 85
The Beginnings of European Settlement 86
References 87

5 Opening the Way for Logging, 1880–1945 89
C.M. King and N.A. Ritchie
Negotiations 89
Tongariro National Park 92
The North Island Main Trunk Railway 93
Rabbits 97
The First Timber Mills 99
Hauling the Logs to the Mills 99
Logging Along the Margins of the Future Pureora Forest Park 103
Tiroa and Maraeroa C 104
A3B2 107
Coal Rides the Timber Tramway 107
References 109

6 Management of Native Forests in the Central North Island, 1919–1977 111
C.M. King, A.E. Beveridge and M.C. Smale
Origin of the New Zealand Forest Service 112
Policy Developments 1946–1977 115
Beveridge's Review 116
Selection Logging 117
The 1977 Management Policy: The End of Clearfelling 122

Growing Pains: The Transition to Exotic Timber 124
The Pureora Nurseries. 125
Coping with the Transition to Exotics. 128
References. 129

7 The Pureora Project 1940–78 131
D.J. Gaukrodger, N.A. Ritchie and C.M. King
Origin of the Pureora Project. 131
Pureora State Forest 96. 132
Post Splitting 132
The Pureora Working Circle. 133
Logging and Sawmilling at Pureora 134
The 1968 and 1970 15-Year Contracts 141
Logging Operations in the Bush. 143
Cruising. 143
Scarfing and Felling 145
Logging Arches 146
Bulldozers and Tractors. 148
Trucks. 150
Safety Gear 151
At the Mill 152
Mill Closures Before 1978 156
References. 157

8 Pureora Forest Village and Its Community, 1945–87 159
D.J. Gaukrodger, N.A. Ritchie and C.M. King
Construction of the Village 160
Location and Isolation. 161
Telephones. 162
Roads and Buses 162
Housing 163
Collecting the Pay 165
Workshop 166
NZFS Officers in Charge 166
Staff. 169
Pureora Forest School. 171
The Post Office and General Store 172
The Volunteer Fire Brigade. 174
Prohibition 175
The Football Club 177
The Football Club Bar 179
Other Sports 180
Medical Care and the Pureora Ambulance. 181
References. 183

9 Conflict: Protest Words to Action in the Forest 1970–78 185
C.M. King, D.J. Gaukrodger and J.R. Hay
Wildlife Service Surveys and Recommendations 187

The Reasoned Case for Stopping the Logging 190
The 1978 Protests. 191
Crunchpoint: Sitting in the Tree Tops 193
The Taupo Seminar 197
References. 200

10 The Moratorium and Afterwards, 1978–87 203
C.M. King and D.J. Gaukrodger
Arguments and Submissions 203
The Otago Business Development Report 206
The Economic Model 208
Critiques of the OBDC 209
High Tension in the Villages 210
A Shock Announcement 210
Awaiting Developments. 211
Consequences 212
Compensation. 214
Goodbye Barryville. 217
Pureora Forest Village Redesigned 219
The Grazing Co-op 222
Postscript 223
References. 224

11 Rethinking Forest Administration, 1978–87 227
D.J. Gaukrodger and C.M. King
Institutional Schizophrenia. 227
The New Economics. 230
The End of NZFS 231
The Ministerial Brief 232
Pureora as a State Forest Park, 1978–87 234
The Titiraupenga Track and the B9B Dispute 236
Pureora as a Conservation Park, Since 1987 238
Long-Term Consequences 239
Pureora as a Field Lab 241
Ecological Reserves 241
References. 243

12 Protecting the Forest from Introduced Herbivores 245
C.M. King, J.G. Innes, M.C. Smale and G. Nugent
Introduced Browsing Animals 246
Feral Cattle 246
Feral Goats 247
Deer 248
Possums 248
Monitoring Browsing Damage 251
Deer: Commercial Hunting 255
Deer: The Short-Lived Live Capture Boom 257
Feral Goats and Mohair Farming 258
Possums: Bounties and Fur 260

Possums: Bovine TB and the Threat to Pastoral Farming 261
Aerial Control Operations 262
Can Trappers Help? 264
The 1080 Dilemma 265
1080 and Birds 267
Kaka and Blue Duck 267
Robins and Tomtits 268
1080 and Non-target Pest Mammals 269
References 271

13 Protecting the Wildlife from Introduced Predators 275
C.M. King, J.G. Innes and J.R. Hay
Understanding Predators 275
Norway Rats 277
Ship Rats 279
Mice 280
Hedgehogs 281
Mustelids 281
Cats 282
Possums 283
Why Are New Zealand Birds so Vulnerable? 283
Protecting the Kokako 285
Phase One: The Forest Bird Research Group, 1978–81 287
Phase Two: Pikiariki, 1982/83 291
Phase Three: Research by Management, 1989–97 293
Other Native Wildlife 297
Complications: Mesopredator Release 298
The Waipapa/Pikiariki Restoration Project 300
Robins and Tomtits 302
Kaka 303
References 304

14 Recreation in Pureora Forest Park 307
D.J. Gaukrodger, N.A. Ritchie and C.M. King
Hunting 308
New Zealand Pigeons 308
Feral Pigs 310
Feral Cattle 312
Deer 312
The Recreational Hunting Area 313
The Pureora Hunting Competition 317
The Game Animal Council 317
Dogs in PFP 318
The Pureora Forest Park Lodge and Outdoor Education Centre 318
The Observation Tower 319
Walking Tracks 319
Huts and Campsites 321

Family Recreation 322
Tracks for Off-Road Vehicles and Mountain Bikes. 323
The Timber Trail 323
Development of the Timber Trail 323
The Ongarue Tramway 325
Recreational Values of the Timber Trail 327
References. 328

15 Conclusions 331
C.M. King, D.J. Gaukrodger and N.A. Ritchie
Why Pureora Forest? 331
A Message for the Future 332

Erratum: The Drama of Conservation E1
C.M. King, D.J. Gaukrodger and N.A. Ritchie

Erratum: The Maori of the Central North Island Before 1860. . . . . E2
C.M. King and T. Roa

Erratum: The European Impact: Exploration to Conflict, 1840–1890 . . . . . E3
C.M. King and N.A. Ritchie

Appendices 333

A Note About Maori Language 333

A Glossary of Maori Terms Mentioned in the Text. 334

General Glossary and Abbreviations Mentioned in the Text . . . 337

List of Scientific Names of Biota Mentioned in the Text 339

Index to Persons 345

Index to Places 351

Index to Species. 355

http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-18409-8

The Drama of Conservation
The History of Pureora Forest, New Zealand
King, C.; Gaukrodger, D.J.; Ritchie, N. (Eds.)
2015, XVII, 357 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-18409-8