

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	Spatializing the Risk Society	2
1.2	The Risk City : The Theoretical Framework	3
1.3	The Risk City as a “Lack” and an “Illusion”	7
1.4	Emerging Planning Practices Countering the Risk of Climate Change	7
1.5	Practices Around the World	10
1.6	The Deficiencies of Climate Change Master Planning	12
1.7	The Risk City Resilience Trajectory	13
1.8	Climate Change Is “Already Happening”: The Deficient Resilient City	14
1.9	The Risk City and the Challenge to the Neoliberal Agenda	16
	References	17
2	Theorizing the Risk City	21
2.1	From the World Risk Society to the Risk City	21
2.2	The Risk City: The Framework	24
2.2.1	The Risk City as a Construct of Risk	25
2.2.2	The Risk City as a Construct of Trust	28
2.2.3	The Risk City as a Construct of Practice	30
2.3	The Risk City and the Dilemma of Lack	32
2.3.1	The Geographies of the Risk City	34
2.4	The Risk City as a Risking City	34
2.5	Conclusions	35
	References	35
3	Planning Practices for Cities Countering Climate Change	39
3.1	Introduction	39
3.2	Methodology: How to Construct a Conceptual Framework	40

3.3	The Concepts of the Risk City Praxis	41
3.3.1	Utopian Vision	43
3.3.2	Equity	43
3.3.3	Mitigation	45
3.3.4	Integrative Urban Governance	50
3.3.5	Ecological Economics	51
3.3.6	Adaptation	52
3.4	Conclusions: The Planning for Countering Climate Change Framework	55
	References.	57
4	Assessment Methods: Planning Practices Countering Climate Change	63
4.1	Introduction	63
4.2	Planning Evaluation Methods and Climate Change	65
4.3	The Countering Climate Change Evaluation Method (CCCEM)	67
4.4	The Concepts of Assessment	69
4.4.1	Concept 1: Utopian Vision.	69
4.4.2	Concept 2: Equity.	71
4.4.3	Concept 3: Mitigation	71
4.4.4	Concept 4: Adaptation.	74
4.4.5	Concept 5: Integrative Approach.	75
4.4.6	Concept 6: Ecological Economics	75
4.5	Conclusions	76
	References.	77
5	Contemporary Planning of the Risk City: The Case of New York City	81
5.1	Introduction	81
5.2	The Assessment of PlaNYC	82
5.2.1	The Utopian Vision of PlaNYC: The Problem Statement	83
5.2.2	Adaptation in PlaNYC.	87
5.2.3	Equity and Justice of PlaNYC: Public Participation	89
5.2.4	Urban Governance	92
5.2.5	Ecological Economics of PlaNYC.	93
5.2.6	Mitigation	93
5.3	Conclusions and Advice to Planners and Policy Makers	98
5.4	Advice to Planners for Planning to Counter Climate Change	100
	References.	101

6	Planning Practices of the Risk City Around the World	105
6.1	Introduction	105
6.1.1	The Utopian Vision.	107
6.1.2	Adaptation	117
6.1.3	Equity—Justice and Planning Procedure	119
6.1.4	Urban Governance	122
6.1.5	Ecological Economics	124
6.1.6	Mitigation	125
6.2	Conclusions	132
	References.	135
7	The Risk City Resilience Trajectory	137
7.1	Introduction	137
7.2	The Problem of Resilience	138
7.3	Conceptual Framework for the Resilient City	140
7.3.1	Concept 1: Vulnerability Analysis Matrix	142
7.3.2	Concept 2: Urban Governance	143
7.3.3	Concept 3: Prevention	144
7.3.4	Concept 4: Uncertainty-Oriented Planning	145
7.4	Risk City Resilience Trajectories	148
7.4.1	City Trajectory	148
7.5	Conclusions	152
	References.	155
8	The Deficient Resilient Cities: Hurricane Sandy in New York City	161
8.1	Introduction	161
8.2	Assessment Method: The Contribution of Planning to City Resilience	162
8.3	The Assessment of Recovery and Costs of Sandy	164
8.3.1	Costs of Event	164
8.3.2	Casualties	165
8.3.3	Recovery Time.	166
8.4	Climate Change-Oriented Planning in New York City	168
8.4.1	Vulnerability Analysis Matrix.	169
8.4.2	Urban Governance	170
8.4.3	Prevention: Mitigation.	170
8.4.4	Adaptation: Uncertainty-Oriented Planning.	170
8.5	Conclusions	173
	References.	175

9	The Inequality of the Risk City: Socio-Spatial Mapping the Risk City	179
9.1	Introduction	179
9.2	Definition and Procedure	180
	References.	194
10	Conclusions	197
10.1	The Evolution of the Risk City and Its Related Planning Practices	197
10.2	The Theory and Practice of Planning for Countering Climate Change	200
10.3	Contemporary Planning of the Risk City in New York City . . .	201
10.4	The Appalling Test of Hurricane Sandy	201
10.5	The Risk City and Its Resilience Framework	202
10.6	Planning Practices Around the World	202
10.7	Inequality in the Risk City	203
	References.	204

The Risk City

Cities Countering Climate Change: Emerging Planning
Theories and Practices around the World

Jabareen, Y.

2015, XV, 204 p. 36 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-94-017-9767-2