

Contents

1	The Interface of Neuroimaging with Neuropsychological Findings in Traumatic Brain Injury	1
	Erin D. Bigler
2	The Role of Cognitive Neuropsychology in Clinical Settings: The Example of a Single Case of Deep Dyslexia	15
	Roberto Cubelli, Silva Pedrizzi and Sergio Della Sala
3	A Case of Traumatic Brain Injury in Adolescence, Complicated by a History of Premorbid Learning Difficulties and Significant Social Concerns	29
	Emily Talbot
4	All in the Family: Huntington's Disease, Variability and Challenges for Clinical Neuropsychology	47
	Lynette J. Tippett and Virginia M. Hogg
5	Neuropsychological Aspects of Temporal-Lobe Epilepsy: Seeking Evidence-Based Practice	71
	Stephen C. Bowden, Leonie C. Simpson and Mark J. Cook
6	Neuropsychological Assessment of Medico-Legal Capacity in the New Zealand Context	89
	Kay L. Cunningham
7	Neuropsychological Assessment of an American Indian with a Ruptured Right Carotid Aneurysm and Associated Subarachnoid Hemorrhage	117
	Vicky T. Lomay and George P. Prigatano
8	Paediatric Neuropsychological Formulation of a Traumatic Brain Injury with Special Reference to Culture	133
	Cathy Grant and Arleta Starza-Smith

9 An Integrative Approach to Differential Diagnosis of Subarachnoid Haemorrhage and Korsakoff's Dementia	157
Martha Sorensen
10 Themes in the Formulation of Repeat Assessments	179
Patrick Vesey and Robert D. Stephens
11 Decisional Capacity in the Traumatically Injured	199
Christina Weyer Jamora and Ron Ruff
12 Educational Disengagement Following Mild Traumatic Brain Injury in Childhood	209
Ingram Wright
13 Cognitive Neuropsychological Formulation	221
Greg Savage
Index	241

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-18337-4>

Neuropsychological Formulation

A Clinical Casebook

Macniven, J.A.B. (Ed.)

2016, X, 246 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-18337-4